NIHMS Test Submission

Journal: Nanotechnology NIHMSID # 149957Submission Problem Report: PDF Rejection

IT IS ADVISABLE TO REJECT THE PDF RECEIPT FOR ANY OF THESE REASONS:

- Figures, Tables, or Supplemental Data is missing
- Text, equations, or significant portions of the manuscript are corrupt
- The submission was made erroneously
- I am not an author of this manuscript
- The quality of the images is poor compared to the original material

PLEASE DO NOT REJECT THE PDF RECEIPT FOR ANY OF THESE REASONS:

- This is not the corrected proof that was sent to the publisher
- This is the accepted version, not the final published version
- I do not see the copy edits that were made
- There are typos
- The underlining/strikethroughs used for edits is still present

Please note that the final accepted version of your manuscript fulfills the [NIH Public Access Policy for submission. Publishers supplying materials to NIHMS deposit final accepted versions as a matter of journal policy. NIHMS cannot edit the PDF Receipt or source files. After you approve the PDF Receipt, we will convert it to standard PMC format documents and ask you to review those. You may request corrections to the text at that point. We will not retain review artifact markings.]

To disapprove the PDF Receipt, enter your comments below. This will be sent to the manuscript submitter.

After making the requested changes, the submitter will create a new PDF Receipt for you to approve. If you later wish to reinstate this manuscript in its current form, you can choose the "re-review manuscript" option on the manuscript record, which will be listed under "In Progress".

Reason for Disapproval

If you chose to reject the PDF, you can provide your reasoning here, which will be sent to the submitter.
