

November 26, 2012

More NNSS News Now Available Through GovDelivery!

The GovDelivery subscription for Nevada National Security Site (NNSS) news now offers even more! In addition to EM News Flash articles on Environmental Management activities, users can now expand subscriptions to receive a monthly publication that covers news relating to the entire NNSS community. The on-line OneVoice newsletter, delivered via e-mail link, features inter-office news, federal/contractor employee highlights, and important updates on NNSS programs, such as Defense Experimentation and Stockpile Stewardship, Homeland Security and Defense Applications, and the National Center for Nuclear Security.

New and existing subscribers to NNSS news can visit <http://www.nv.energy.gov/subscriptions.aspx>, enter an e-mail address, and click Submit. New subscribers must first confirm their e-mail address, select a delivery preference, and enter a password (optional). All subscribers are then given a list of publications from which to select. Publications include newsletters, press releases, and updates from the national U.S. Department of Energy Environmental Management office as well as from field offices such as the NNSS and the Oak Ridge Office in Tennessee. Once users click in the box next to OneVoice (or any other publication of choice) and then Submit, a notice will appear indicating that the subscription is updated. Then, users either select additional options and Submit, or click Close.

Managing a GovDelivery subscription is easy, and allows for making changes (including e-mail address updates) at any time.

Contact the Nevada Site Office at 702-295-3521 for more information.