

Public Notice Submission

Provider Name: Triangle Communications

Summary: Triangle Communications is the DBA name for Triangle Telephone Cooperative and Central Montana Communications. Both companies have fiber middle mile facilities throughout their entire networks connecting the central offices in each exchange including 16 miles within the Rocky Boy Reservation and about 30 miles within the Fort Belknap Reservation. Triangle Telephone has an approved RUS loan for the construction of FTTH in several exchanges including the Rocky Boy Reservation where construction will begin in 2011. Central Montana Communications is in the final stages of receiving approval from RUS for a loan that includes installing FTTH on the Fort Belknap Reservation and plans on beginning construction in 2012. In addition to the FTTH exchange upgrades, we are in the process of upgrading the remainder of our central offices to a 10G network which should be completed by the end of 2010. Note that Triangle Communications also offers a 512kbps tier of DSL service. Five hundred eighty-three of our subscribers who were grandfathered have chosen to remain in that tier due to its lower monthly cost. Of those 583, 59 reside in Rocky Boy and 95 are located on the Fort Belknap Indian Reservation.
