Army Celebrates Living History Day

SCHOFIELD BARRACKS, Hawaii—The Tropic Lightning Museum will bring history to life at its Living History Day, Oct. 4, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. to celebrate the 25th Infantry Division’s organization day.

This free event is open to the public and offers a fun-filled and educational day for all ages.

Living History Day events will include exhibits of military memorabilia, restored military vehicles, hands-on displays of military artifacts, and re-enactors in period uniforms, ranging from the Revolutionary War to modern full battle dress.

The Arizona, Missouri, Bowfin, and Pacific Aviation museums will all have educational history booths on site.

For the children, family friendly games, activities, food and prizes will be available.

Scheduled Events:

9:30 a.m. Farrington JROTC Color Guard will present the colors
10:30 a.m. Celtic Pipes and Drums of Hawaii performance
1:30 p.m. Military dog training demonstration

Directions: Civilians should enter through Schofield’s Lyman Gate and will be asked to show a photo ID, current car registration and proof of insurance.

From H-2/Wilikina turn left on Kunia Road. Turn right at Lyman Gate (2nd traffic light). From Lyman Road, take the 2nd right onto Flagler Road. Go past the first stop sign, and you will see signs for parking on your left.
