NOAA Science and Technology Enterprise Objective: Accurate and reliable data from sustained and integrated Earth observing systems

OMAO Mission: To safely and efficiently operate NOAA ships and aircraft, incorporate emerging data acquisition technologies, and provide a specialized professional team responsive to NOAA programs

NOAA Ship Okeanos Explorer is America's first ship dedicated solely to ocean exploration and discovery. The ship carries cutting-edge technology that will enable explorers at sea and at Exploration Command Centers ashore to investigate the unknown and poorly understood ocean and its phenomena. This mission is carried out in partnership with NOAA's Office of Ocean Exploration and Research. The ship's operating area is worldwide.

SECTION 6 - DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

6A. Description of Duties and Responsibilities

The Commanding Officer (CO) holds the ultimate responsibility for the safety of all personnel, the ship, and the conduct of the mission. Duties include:

SAFETY & OPERATIONS:

- Operate the ship in accordance with standard marine practices, USCG regulations, as well as OMAO, MOC, and shipboard policies, procedures, and instructions. Support, implement, and enforce the Fleet Operational Management System (FOMS), especially the safety and environmental management policies. Motivate the crew in the observation of the FOMS policies.
- Establish ship specific procedures for all Watchstanders while inport, at anchor, and underway.
- Ensure safe navigation, route planning and effective bridge resource management.

Leadership Development Comments (Optional)

More than any assignment previously, CO is an assignment where an officer must rely upon and/or develop the greatest range of competencies. Beginning with taking care of oneself, then managing and leading others, a CO must ensure performance of the ship and crew to meet the mission in the midst of many challenges and conflicts. A CO is also introduced to competencies of Leading Organizations, particularly personnel and financial issues of the ship and fleet, and partnering with programs.

SECTION 11 - OPERATIONAL DEVELOPMENT

A. Marine Development

- Officer of the Deck Senior Watch Officer ECDIS Dynamic Positioning Boat Deployment MedPIC
 Coxswain/OIC HAZWOPER AUV Deployment U/W UAS Deployment Buoy/Mooring Qualified
 Trawl Qualified Longline Qualified Hydro Launch PIC Foreign Port Calls

B. Aviation Development

- Co-Pilot Pilot Aircraft Commander Mission Commander Instructor Pilot Hurricane Qualified
 Alaska/Wilderness Qualified Flight Meteorologist International Flights UAS Pilot

C. Dive Development

- Scientific Diver Working Diver Advanced Working Diver Master Diver Dive Master Dive Medic
 Unit Diving Supervisor

D. Additional Operational Development (security clearances, special training) or Operational Development Comments (Optional)

This billet provides the incumbent with the unique opportunity to command one of the Nation's public vessels. It is the highest seagoing billet attainable, and the opportunity for an officer to showcase what they have learned throughout their career at sea. A CO is responsible for training their Wardroom on the path to serve as future COs.

SECTION 12 - PROGRAM, PROJECT, OR ACTIVITY DEVELOPMENT

List specific qualifications, knowledge, skills or abilities to be developed in this billet. For example: budget (MARS, CBS); personnel; contracting (COTR, Warrants); Scientific (IHO Category A, scientific papers/publications, GIS); engineering (marine survey, ABYC, ABS, FAA); regulatory (US Code, CFR); information technology (databases, networks, programming).

A CO will develop an increased depth and expansion of capability in the following administrative areas:

- Personnel plans and evaluations (WM and officers), awards, discipline, hiring, etc.
- Procurement mechanisms and requirements (purchase card, purchase order, etc.)
- Budget tracking and reporting

Through supervision of the Engineering department, monitoring of the Casualty Reports and Ship Repair Requests, and full participation in the Work Definition Conferences, CO's coordinate with multiple stakeholders (ship's crew, MOC, program) to address technical issues, resolve problems, and set priorities for moving forward to meet the ship's mission - particularly with resources.

Of note, a CO is expected to become more aware of fleet issues existing beyond his/her ship and to make contributions towards addressing these issues. In particular, a CO is expected to monitor and review the FOMS and report any deficiencies to the MOC and Fleet Standardization office.

Officers will gain more familiarity with the exploration mission and associated technologies (multibeam mapping, telepresence, and remote operating vehicles). And with the ocean exploration mission being relatively new, a CO has the opportunity to make significant contributions to the future direction/definition of ocean exploration.

SECTION 13 - CRITICAL SUCCESS CRITERIA

Provide brief measurable performance goals which would represent successful performance in this billet.

- Safe operation of the ship as indicated by the annual fleet inspection and accident report submissions
- Completion of the mission as indicated by cruise evaluations and other feedback from the program as well as quantity and quality of scientific data gathered by the ship
- Performance of CO duties indicates potential for assuming greater leadership responsibilities
- Recommendation by CO, MOC for the officer to serve as a future CO, MOC, or in other senior level positions throughout NOAA.
