

Howa Boutajob, BSN, RN, 9876 Anytown Ave., Apt 12, Citytown, MD 20815, Email: howa.boutajob@emailhost.com (xxx) xxx-xxxx

Objective:

To gain basic research experience that will prepare me for a career in research and medicine.

Education:

University of Pittsburgh–Main Campus, Pittsburgh, PA

Graduation Date: 08/2009

Major: Nursing GPA: 3.623

WOW! This GPA is outstanding.
Adding your own GPA is optional.

Minors: Chemistry, Religious Studies

Degrees: Bachelors of Science in Nursing (BSN), Bachelor of Philosophy (BPhil)

Certifications:

Basic Life Support for Healthcare Providers (CPR & AED) - American Heart Association Exp. 4/17/11

I would add city and state after each employer.

Relevant Experience:

Volunteer, Surgical Records: Magee-Women's Hospital, June 2005 - December 2005

- Organized medical records.
- Helped to connect families with their loved ones while in the pre-operative and post-operative area.

Volunteer, Emergency Department: Presbyterian Hospital, May 2006 – August 2006

- Helped connect family members with their loved ones while in the ER.
- Offered emotional support for awaiting ER patients.

Volunteer, Pathology Department: Presbyterian Hospital, May 2007-August 2007

- Observed dissections and participated in formulation of hypotheses related to cause of death.
- Recorded anatomy of cadavers during dissection.

Hospital Unit Clerk, Emergency Department: Presbyterian Hospital, August 2006-October 2007

- Connected healthcare professionals one another with by relaying pertinent patient information.
- Worked 12-hour night shift from 7p-7a (1 day/wk).
- Managed orders for tests and labs concerning patient healthcare.

Research Assistant, School of Nursing: University of Pittsburgh, August 2006–April 2007

- Worked with Dr. Denise Charron-Prochownik on study concerning preconception counseling for girls with diabetes.
- Conducted screening interviews with subjects in the Detroit, MI area.
- Performed literature reviews for grant proposals for educational software program for preconception counseling.

Research Assistant, School of Nursing: University of Pittsburgh, August 2007–August 2009

- Worked with Dr. Richard Henker on genetic research related to variants in the mu opioid receptor.
- Entered of data and experience with SPSS data management system.
- Clinical data collection (DNA samples).
- Performed literature reviews for abstract submission.

Personal Home Health Aide, Community Living and Support Services, April 2007–August 2009

- Provided necessary care for a student with C-5 quadriplegia (clinical and clerical duties).
- Performed catheterizations.
- Enabled student to complete grant work by acting as secretary.
- Helped enable student with C-5 quadriplegia to conduct research in their lab.
- Enabled student to complete lab work by acting as secretary.
- Accompanied student to research seminars.

Postbaccalaureate IRTA Fellow, National Institutes of Health, September 2009–Present

- RNA extraction from Paxgene and Trizol.
- Perform literature reviews for Traumatic Brain Injury.
- Prepare pilot protocol for sickle cell disease and pain.

Jobs, presentations, publications, honors, etc., are typically listed in reverse chronological order—that is, with the most recent listed first, and so on. This trainee has done the opposite.

Presentations

- The association between opioid mu receptor genotypes and opioid induced sedation in orthopedic trauma patients for Sigma Theta Tau International Honor Society of Nursing at University of Pittsburgh (February 2009)
- The association between opioid mu receptor genotypes and opioid induced sedation in orthopedic trauma patients at University of Pittsburgh Undergraduate Research Fair (March 2009)
- The Association between Genotypes for Opioid μ Receptors and

If your résumé extends beyond one page, add a header that includes name and page number.

Catechol-O-Methyl Transferase with Opioid Induced Sedation in Postoperative Orthopedic Trauma Patients at American Association for Nurse Anesthetists Conference (August 2009)

Publications

- The association between genotypes for opioid μ receptors and catechol-o-methyl transferase with opioid induced sedation in postoperative orthopedic trauma patients abstract accepted for publication in American Association of Nurse Anesthetists Journal (October 2009)
- The association between OPRM1 and COMT genotypes with postoperative pain, opioid use, and opioid induced sedation article submitted tthe Journal of Anesthesiology (February 2010)

Honors

University of Pittsburgh Dean's list, Spring 2006, Fall 2007, Spring 2008, Fall 2008, Spring 2009

University of Pittsburgh, Honors Challenge Scholar, Fall 2005-Present

Deborah Elaine Lawhorn Memorial Fund Scholarship, Fall 2007

Golden Key International Honor Society, Spring 2008-Present

Sigma Theta Tau Honors Society of Nursing, Fall 2008-Present

Organizations

Pitt Pathfinders, Office of Financial Aid and Admissions, January 2006–April 2009

- Connected prospective students with the resources necessary to make informed decisions about their future college plans.
- Cooperated with other Pathfinders and staff members in planning large-scale recruitment events.
- Provided campus tours for prospective students.

Keep it Real, University of Pittsburgh, January 2006-April 2007, January 2009-April 2009

Recruitment/Fundraising Chair, August 2006-April 2007

- Tutored Somali refugee children in the Pittsburgh area.
- Increased awareness of the refugee population on campus and in Pittsburgh area.

Premedical Organization for Minority Students, University of Pittsburgh, August 2006-April 2009

Secretary, January 2008-January 2009

- Collaborated with fellow members in organizing a 3rd Annual Pre-Professional Health Conference at the University of Pittsburgh.
- Helped connect pre-professional health students with necessary resources for a career in healthcare.
- Facilitated communication between pre-professional healthcare students in order to understand the scope of practice of one another.

Chi Eta Phi Sorority, Inc., University of Pittsburgh, January 2008-April 2009
Treasurer, January 2008-Present

- Plan budget and organize funds.
- Collaborated with others in organizing a fair for health promotion on campus.