

UNITED STATES MARINE CORPS
MOTION PICTURE & TV LIAISON OFFICE
10880 WILSHIRE BOULEVARD, SUITE 1230
LOS ANGELES, CA 90024
(310) 235-7272

IN REPLY REFER TO:
5727
PAO-LA

From: Director, Motion Picture & TV Liaison Office
To: Barbara Gonzalez, FOIA Specialist, Headquarters Marine Corps

Subj: [REDACTED] (b)(6)

1. Per your request, the following are films this office supported between 1 Jan - 31 Dec 2012.

2. Feature Films:

Lone Survivor - Universal Pictures: Based on the failed June 28, 2005 mission "Operation Red Wing," in which Four SEAL Team 10 members are tasked with mission to capture or kill Taliban Leader, Admad Shad. Marines took part as extras.

3. Documentary Films:

"Inside the Afghanistan War" - NatGeo: This documentary follows the US military's operations in Afghanistan. Marines were interviewed and b-roll footage was provided.

"101 Weapons That Changed the World" - History Channel: Producers with JWM Productions interviewed Huey and Cobra pilots from MCAS Cherry Point regarding the importance of helicopters in combat and filmed aboard the air station.

"Frontline Medicine" - BBC Worldwide: BBC Productions interviewed two Marines treated for combat-related injuries while on tour in Afghanistan. The documentary focused on medical advancements and treatment of combat-related injuries.

"Curiosity: The Questions of Life" - Discovery Channel: Discovery Studios explores the origins of violence with a scientific approach. Producers interviewed a drill instructor from Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, to highlight the psychological training that prepares a Marine for combat.

"Marines in the South Pacific" - Military Channel: Marine Corps footage and photographs provided to highlight the island-hopping campaign of World War II, with a focus on the struggle endured by the men fighting in the South Pacific.

"American Couples" - HBO/BBC: Couples from Camp Pendleton interviewed for documentary that explores strong relationships.

Subj:

(b)(6)

"American Birthright" - California Newsreel: Documentary covers early childhood development programs and their effect on childhood development. Features interviews of Child Development Center staff and Marine Corps Base Camp Pendleton leadership, and highlights that the armed forces have led the nation in making quality, affordable early care possible, and the reasons they have done so.

4.

(b)(6)

(b)(6)

(b)(6)