

NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES

THE MISSION

- Because democracy demands wisdom, the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH) promotes excellence in the humanities and conveys the lessons of history to all Americans.
- The NEH seeks to develop educated and thoughtful citizens who can sustain government of, by, and for the people.
- The NEH promotes good citizenship by inspiring and making possible life-long education in the humanities.

“If a nation expects to be ignorant and free, it expects what never was and never will be.”
- Thomas Jefferson

THE GOALS

- The humanities explore what it means to be human — helping us to understand the world and our place in it.
 - The study of history shows us where we come from and provides a compass for the future.
 - The study of literature and art reveals how imagination can help us better understand the world.
 - The study of philosophy gives meaning to our understanding of justice and truth.
 - The study of languages helps us better understand other cultures as well as our own.

THE PROGRAMS

- The NEH provides grants for high-quality humanities projects, typically awarded to cultural institutions such as museums, archives, libraries, colleges and universities, public television and radio stations, as well as to individual scholars.
- The NEH is reinvigorating the teaching, study, and understanding of American history and principles through its We the People program. Its newest initiative, Picturing America, aims to tell the story of America through its art.
- The State Humanities Councils provide an impressive array of programs that bring the humanities to citizens in local communities throughout every state and U.S. territory.
- Through its Office of Digital Humanities, the NEH is exploring the use of digital tools to enhance scholarship and make humanities resources more accessible to all.

THE DETAILS

- The NEH is an independent federal agency that was created in 1965. It is the largest funder of humanities programs in the U.S.
- For over 40 years, NEH grants have supported a wide range of projects, including:
 - Documentary films
 - Endowments for cultural institutions
 - Exhibitions
 - Library reading and discussion programs
 - Preservation of fragile collections
 - Presidential papers
 - Public humanities programs in every state
 - Research fellowships
 - Seminars for teachers
