- Name of Organization(s): Columbus State University, Columbus, Georgia

- Lead Investigator: Dr. Shamim Khan

- Current Team Members: Dr. Wayne Summers, Project Director and Distinguished Chair, TSYS School of Computer Science; Dr. Shamim Khan, Principle Investigator; Dr. Sebastian Khor, Project Technical Lead; Dr. Rodrigo Obando, Investigator; Dr. Vladimir Zanev, Investigator; Mr. John Fuller, Program Manager

Research Areas of Interest

- Developing cognitive map-based models for use in decision making.

- Serious Game Design and Development

- Military Decision Making

Columbus State University

Unique Qualifications

- Our experience and work in cognitive map based decision making and serious game design and development makes us uniquely qualified to participate in the Sirius Project.

- Two of our colleagues on the project team have done extensive research and work in the application of fuzzy cognitive maps and fuzzy knowledge maps; all have serious game design and development expertise and experience.

Specific Capabilities Our Group Is Seeking:

- Intelligence analyst
- Social scientist
- Statistician
- Knowledge management expert

Contact Information

- John D. Fuller

- Program Director

- TSYS School of Computer Science,

  Columbus State University

- Fuller_john2@colstate.edu

- Office: 706-565-3499

  Cell: 706-577-7886

- www.columbusstate.edu