The Exemplary Work Wall

The Exemplary Work Wall

- PHES' Wall of Honor is a place where exemplary work is posted.
- You will also find our A and A/B honor roll posted there.
- Special achievement awards find their home there too.

What is the Exemplary Work Wall?

It is a wall of excellent student work!

How does work get to the Exemplary Work Wall?

Teachers send students to the office each Wednesday in order to review the exemplary work they did.

What do the students do when they go to the office?

Students nominated for this honor have the chance to explain to a member of the admin team “why their work was exceptional.”

What happens to the work they explain?

There is a special place where the work is displayed for one week.

Why does work get chosen for the Exemplary Work Wall?

The teacher looks at the work and uses the following criteria to determine if the work meets the standard for exemplary work:

| | |
|---------------------|---------------------|
| name and date | no spelling errors |
| neatness | correct punctuation |
| followed directions | expanded ideas |
