

October 5, 2011

The Honorable Tim Johnson, Chairman and Honorable Richard Shelby, Ranking Member U.S. Senate Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs 534 Dirksen Senate Office Building Washington, D.C. 20510

Dear Senators Johnson and Shelby:

As a business person, I am writing to urge you to support the confirmation of Richard Cordray to be the first Director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB).

I believe that fair access to affordable and safe credit products is an important element of household financial security; families need access to credit in order to afford wealth-building assets such as residential property and higher education. CFPB's mission to be a cop on the financial beat will help families and many businesses navigate the financial markets safely.

Richard Cordray is an excellent choice to lead CFPB. His years of public service have led him to develop deep expertise in consumer protection. As the Attorney General of Ohio, Cordray was a national leader in fighting foreclosure scams and ensuring that mortgage lenders and servicers obeyed all consumer finance laws. Both as the Attorney General and as the state Treasurer, Cordray prioritized the well-being of Ohio households.

Most recently, Cordray has led the CFPB's enforcement team as the Bureau has developed rules and procedures for examining the nation's largest financial institutions and, when necessary, pursuing corrective action and referring cases to the Department of Justice. He is highly knowledgeable about the Bureau's efforts to get up and running and will capably lead its transition to full operations.

Forty-four Republican Senators have vowed to block any nominee unless the Administration changes the Bureau's structure and funding. These changes would not improve the Bureau; instead, they would hamstring its funding, compromise its independence, and complicate its decision making process.

Please do not block Richard Cordray's nomination; instead, I ask you to move swiftly to confirm him to lead CFPB. The Bureau officially opened for business on July 21. Without a permanent, confirmed director, it will not gain its full powers. Moreover, we will not have the financial "cop on the beat" that American families, many businesses, and the economy needs.

Sincerely,

David Levine Executive Director American Sustainable Business Council
