Intro Scuba

Trial Course €20, -
The safe entrance into a new world... The perfect solution, if you are not yet completely sure if diving is going to become your new hobby. Then book a so-called Schnupperkurs (trial course) for €20, - and begin your training as an open Water Diver on your respective training dates.

You now have 14 days time to decide if diving is a sport for you. During this time you will have 2 courses on theory and 2 dives in the swimming pool, after which you can surely decide if you wish to continue your training.

If you decide to continue, the cost of the trial course is taken into account and you will only pay the difference of the open water diver course.

We look forward to opening up a whole new world of exploration and excitement through your training!

Scuba training from the Beginner to the Professional

Michael Schumacher does it, to Franzl of Almsick, Vitali Klitschko, Guido Westerwelle and also Günter Jauch - to name just a few of the 3.5 million individuals in Germany who dive. They all plunged into the sport of diving, and alone in Germany annually 20,000 more join the ranks. When you ask one of them why? The words "incredible" and "fascinating" are what you hear time after time. What these individuals have experienced can only be experienced after your first diving adventure. Begin your adventure now....we would be happy to guide you!

For over 16 years we have successfully trained divers. We also are one of the few diving schools with international certification to train other dive instructors. From the beginner to the dive instructor we have a course designed with you in mind!

Since you will be exploring several smaller caves you will have more time to observe the geology that is present inside the cave.

The basic cave routes are open depending upon snow conditions and weather starting in the middle of April to at the beginning of November. Since the exploration of the Falkensteiner Höle depends so much on weather and water level, it will be decided on the day of your tour if it can be safely explored.

A rope garden can be called a series of artificial obstacles (from rope and/or cables), which are developed in a meaningful course for various applications. The high express garden is a suspension course between poles or in some cases also between living trees. At heights of up to 10 meters the course challenges each participant with several different exercises offering everyone the possibility of experiencing and of extending their own personal limits. Secured and under professional guidance participants have the chance to gather meaningful experiences that everyday life does not afford. Participation does not require any special physical ability or learned skill - there are also no rules as to how the individual obstacles are to be mastered. Learning by Doing stands in the foreground. The high express garden is not a standardized unit, individuals are free to move about as they see fit on the obstacle. It can however, be configured to a target group's needs. High express elements are used in connection with climbing ropes, belts, helmets and further safety equipment. The high express garden is open year round.

Tandem Skydiving

Only skydivers know why birds sing!

Moments for eternity! Firmly connected to an experienced "tandem master" via a harness, you jump out into the sky from an altitude of about 3,000 to 4,000 meters. After your exit, you're going to accelerate like a hot-blooded sports car until you speed towards ground with free fall velocity! About 50 seconds later, your tandem master activates the parachute and you're floating through the air! Tandem skydiving in free fall takes away your sense of time: the seconds in the sky will feel much, much longer, and you'll never forget these impressions as long as you live. Become a member in the club of skydivers! Information and participation requirements.

Required physical fitness and age

- Minimum age 10 years.
- Participants under 18 years require the consent of a parent who must be present on site.
- Minimum body height 1.40 meter.

Skygate ballooning information:
 A balloon trip lasts approx. 1-1 1/2 hours; because we rely on the wind as our engine times will vary and sometimes the trip is a little longer or shorter, depending on the wind. Each season of the year has its own attraction, in particular the winter season the viewing is very impressive due to the crisp clear skies. The cold is not a problem as when you are drifting with the wind you do not feel the wind when you are in the basket. Dress for the season as if you were going for a hike and please wear good walking/standing footwear. Experience the European mountains from a bird's eye view. Do you have special requests? We are very flexible and will strive to make your ballooning adventure the memory of a lifetime!

Advanced Canyoning

With the optimal preparation through briefings, having practiced on the basic course, having overcome the fear of leaping into the depths of the canyon and having learned the roping techniques required you are ready for all the canyon has to offer. The canyon is larger, the climbs longer and steeper and the ravine deeper as we dip into the cool water. Along the route we encounter roaring waterfalls, glittering cliffs and wonderful awe inspiring nature in it's primitive and purest form. The Pro and Expert routes are suitable as a follow on course to the basic course. For the more daring individuals it is also possible to begin with a pro route. THE BALLOON TRIP

A unique characteristic of balloon flying is that the balloon is steered considerably by nature. It moves with the wind and thus we depend very strongly on the existing weather conditions at time of launch. As a responsible ballooning team we ensure that our guests start their dream journey only in optimal weather conditions. The culmination of each balloon trip is naturally the piloting baptism of the guests, where the guest becomes the pilot of the balloon bringing them into the guild of balloon pilots.

Basic Canyoning

Canyoning ...

A fascinating experience of exploring ancient rock formations, emerald-green water pools and the indescribable wonder of nature up close and personal. Swimming, sliding, jumping, roping, running and pure enjoyment - all this and much more is possible, when you zip the neoprene suit shut, adhere to the safety considerations and you have learned the techniques of roping. We then move into a world where time no longer matters, where the clear water rushes secured by a rope which you firmly grasp in your hand as your repel down the waterfall and in the next instant dare to jump into the blue green waters below. Let from us guide you through a world that time has not changed, where you can be bewitched by the wonder and majesty of the moment as seen from a perspective that you will remember for a lifetime.

Level: Basic:

Basic routes are characterized by a relatively short climb, a ravine that many alternates offers, as well as emergency exits which can be reached easily. Nevertheless, a basic route has everything which Canyoning constitutes: Leaps, slides, repelling etc. in moderate heights for an initial experience and learning.

Season:

The basic routes start in the middle of April and run into October depending on the snow situation and weather. Since canyoning depends so much on the weather and water conditions, the ravine which will be utilized will be selected on the day of your adventure.

Undecided? Why not try our Trial Offer course

Still a little uncertain if flying is for you? Plan to attend a trial offer course! After a short introduction to the theory and equipment used we head out to the practice slopes. Shortly after some running and sail inflating exercises you will realize your dream of independent flight! After your first few short flights with radio contact your view of the world will have changed! The incredible experience of the trial offer course proves itself in that most of the trial offer students sign up for a follow on course and continue to fly.

Our recommendation

In comparison with a tandem flight or a balloon trip the "trial offer course" is our recommendation of choice for experiencing the freedom of flight - an unforgettable active weekend, also great with a partner, with friends, associates or teammates.

Training after the trial offer?

Immediately after completion of the trial offer course, we can continue your training with either the 4 day ground course or the week long combination course. If you choose not to immediately pursue your dream of flying,, you can sign up within one year of taking the trial offer course and it will be taken into account!
