PLAN SPONSOR

While the individual health insurance plans offered by Extend Health are not sponsored by your former employer, the HRA account is. Accordingly, your former employer will provide a summary plan description (SPD) related to your rights and responsibilities that pertain to the HRA. The plan document and the SPD are the formal plan documents that apply to the HRA. This document is intended as information only for retired employees eligible for the HRA. The SPD will contain the provisions of the Plan and, ultimately, determine what benefits are provided to the retirees and dependents.
