

November 15, 2012

Global eLine

ASC provides help in Superstorm Sandy relief
 The 406th Army Field Support Brigade has deployed personnel and equipment to support relief operations for Superstorm Sandy. As Army Sustainment Command's main effort, the 406th AFSB...

ASC honors area veterans
 Army Sustainment Command Soldiers fanned out across western Illinois and eastern Iowa during the Veterans Day weekend, paying tribute to area veterans. In an all-out community outreach effort, ASC Soldiers gave speeches, conducted...

401st AFSB employee named QASAS of the Year
 Mark R. Adkins, who is the Joint Munitions Command senior staff technical representative assigned to 401st Army Field Support Brigade, received the highest recognition in the Quality Assurance Specialist...

ASC Soldiers roll out mats to roll up the enemy
 Soldiers of the Army Sustainment Command gathered and paired up on mats at the RIA Community Fitness Center, Oct. 1, for some of the most energetic schooling they are likely to ever receive. Level 4 tactical...

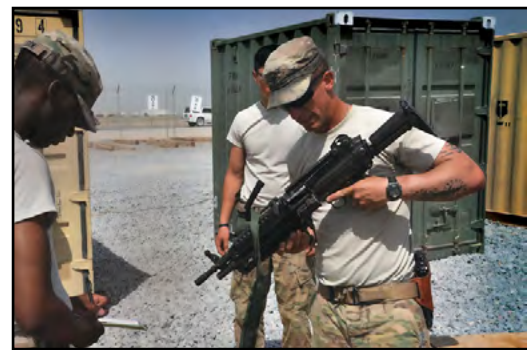

Army contracting, logistics discussed during 3-day gathering at RIA
 Contracting and LOGCAP were the main topics during a three-day meeting that concluded Oct. 31 here in Building 103, Baylor Conference Room, as the Army makes plans for post-war...

403rd AFSB holds first FRG steering committee meeting
 The 403rd Army Field Support Brigade held its first Brigade Family Readiness Group Steering Committee meeting Oct. 26 incorporating the six newly acquired Logistics Readiness Centers located in Korea and Japan...

3rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary) Cleans Up

Teams from the 3rd Sustainment Command (Expeditionary) have been operating throughout Afghanistan, helping units to get rid of large amounts of excess property no longer needed after 10 years of war...

New housing at 401st AFSB improves force protection

The third building in the 401st Army Field Support Brigade's Phase V housing area opened Oct. 27 and provides housing for personnel in a hardened structure thereby improving force protection...

Aviation maintenance group with 401st AFSB develops solution for faster repairs

In the midst of a busy maintenance schedule, Connecticut National Guard Soldiers assigned to 1109th Theater Aviation Sustainment Maintenance Group reached out to contractors...

ASC Soldier competes in half-marathons for cancer

An Army Sustainment Command headquarters Soldier hit the pavement in what was supposed to be a family affair as he chalked up another competition in the Savannah Rock'n'Roll Marathon...

ASC SES honored for service, takes new position at Army Headquarters

An Army Sustainment Command employee received the Meritorious Civilian Service Award here Oct. 31 for his accomplishments from 2007 to 2012 culminating as...

DoD News

Army, DOD must adjust to budget, force changes

The Army will continue to customize its mission objectives based on budget and force structure changes, a senior defense official said during the 2012 Association of the U.S. Army's annual conference...

DOD requests new mobility applications, devices

Service members could be downloading applications for government BlackBerrys, iPhones, Androids and other "mobility devices" by the beginning of next year, said Air Force Maj. Gen. Robert E. Wheeler, the deputy chief information officer for...

Pentagon moves to refine acquisitions process

The Defense Department continues to do all it can to enhance the defense acquisition process, improving the Pentagon's buying power and maximizing value for taxpayers' money, a senior Pentagon official said...

Foreign military students learn public affairs skills

Fifteen foreign military students are hard at work writing communications plans for their countries as they learn the American approach to becoming military public affairs officers at the Defense Information School...

