The screenshot shows the Move.mil website in Internet Explorer. The browser title is "Move.mil - Windows Internet Explorer" and the address bar shows "http://www.move.mil/". The website header features the USTRANSCOM logo and the text "WELCOME TO MOVE.MIL DOD HOUSEHOLD GOODS PORTAL". Below the header is a navigation menu with links: Program, DOD Customer, PPSO, TSP, Resources, Access DPS, and Contact. The main content area is divided into two columns. The left column is titled "From the Desk of the Program Manager" and contains a "Defense Personal Property System (DPS) Rollout Report" section. The right column has a "Search Move.mil" box and an "Accessing DPS via ETA" section. The footer includes "OPR for this page: TCJ6-P", "Contact Webmaster", "Last Modified: 04/13/2009", and a disclaimer: "This is a Department of Defense (DOD) computer system. Please read our Privacy, Accessibility, Use, and Non-Endorsement Disclaimer Notice." The Windows taskbar at the bottom shows the Start button, several open applications (Sent Items, DPS Info Me..., 4 Reminders, INFO Memo, Microsoft Po...), and the Move.mil - W... window. The system clock shows 9:10 AM.

From the Desk of the Program Manager

Defense Personal Property System (DPS) Rollout Report.
Joint Program Management Office Household Goods (JPMO HHGS) is pleased to report that the DPS roll-out continues to be successful. As of 3 Apr 09, we've counseled 7,941 members, awarded 4,141 shipments, delivered 578 shipments, and paid 397 invoices. New GBLOCs begin to use DPS every day.

Six shipment types continue to counsel and ship via Transportation Operational Personal Property Standard System (TOPS) for now, as work in these areas continues in DPS. Those shipment types are:

- 1) Personally Procured Moves (PPM): the PPM functionality in DPS does not match the Joint Forces Travel regulation (JFTR). DPS will be reprogrammed and the Services will seek a JFTR change over the next few weeks.
- 2) Joint Moves (where both adults in a household are Service Members/DOD Civilians): the DPS functionality does not yet fully accommodate these moves.
- 3) Multiple shipments from the same location.
- 4) Shipments from/to unauthorized locations.
- 5) Shipments of unauthorized items: the excess cost estimation function in DPS does not yet properly handle these shipment types.
- 6) One-time-only (OTO) shipments: a software fix is necessary to properly process these shipments.

We are working to correct these deficiencies and we hope to move these shipments into DPS quickly. Other shipment types are now available in DPS (to include shipments to/from Alaska!), although some workarounds remain. For example, shipments for AAFES and NAF employees require manual invoice processing.

The Services, USTRANSCOM, and SDDC have agreed to keep TOPS fully functional until 30 Sep 09 for use in shipments DPS cannot yet handle, and to provide a safety net for unforeseen problems with DPS.
