The USAMEDCOM Library Program Office serves as the focal point for the strategic planning, policy, and oversight of the biomedical, research, technical, and academic libraries in the U.S. Army Medical Command and its major subordinate commands.

Our vision for creating an information future focuses on being the leading provider of knowledge-based information for all echelons of the AMEDD.  A key component of creating the AMEDD libraries' information future is advancing the development of Army Medicine's Virtual Library of digitized and electronic Information resources, available ભ anytime, anyplace.  It is critical for the Virtual Library to be responsive to the present and future information needs of the AMEDD.
