Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies

These projects will invest in Montana's infrastructure. Transportation projects put hardworking folks back on the job building roads, bridges, and railroad and transmission lines. Good infrastructure lays the foundation for broad-based economic growth and prosperity that's shared by all who put in their fair share of hard work. Economic development projects will expand and improve services to communities across the state.

Information about each project was provided by the requesting entity. Amounts requested are not guaranteed; funds secured are likely to differ from the requested amount. Senator Tester's appropriation requests to the Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies Subcommittee for Fiscal Year 2008 are listed below.
