Description of Key Spouse Training Sessions

Key Spouse Initial Training: *One day mandatory training held at the Airman & Family Readiness Center. This class will provide newly appointed Key Spouses with a basic knowledge about the resources and helping agencies on base and in the local community. Mandatory suicide prevention training will also be provided at this one day training. Before registering for the Key Spouse Initial Training please make sure you have met with your commander and come to training with an appointment letter. * Additional mandatory training for new Key Spouses includes Heartlink 101 (Heartlink 101 is scheduled for 25 Oct/24 Jan/25 Apr/25 Jul from 0800 - 1500 @ The Event Center).*

Key Spouse Mentor Training: Training held at the Airman & Family Readiness Center from 0900 - 1030. This training is for leadership spouses who are interested in taking an active role in mentoring Key Spouses in their units. If leadership spouses have not attended Key Spouse Initial Training then the completion of that course is highly encouraged.

Key Spouse Meeting: This meeting is an informal gathering designed to facilitate conversation and connections between Key Spouses. Each meeting will have an educational topic to ensure all Key Spouses continue to receive the necessary tools they need to be successful.
