

Ever
Thought
Of Doing
This?

143^d Airlift Wing is Interviewing Pilot Candidates

The 143^d Airlift Wing of the Rhode Island Air National Guard is accepting applications for individuals that desire to serve as a Military Officer flying the C-130J Hercules. Applicants will be selected to receive a commission in the Air National Guard, and will attend U.S. Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training. Upon completion of training, new pilots will serve part-time at Quonset ANGB, North Kingstown, R.I.

Serve your country while living and working in New England!

Open House Opportunity

- Learn how to complete a Pilot Candidate Application Package
- Hear tips on how to become the most competitive candidate
 - Talk to pilots about what it is like to fly in the A.N.G.
 - Take a tour through the C-130J Hercules Aircraft

Sunday, March 3rd 2013
9:45 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Presentation starts promptly at 10 a.m.

Quonset Air National Guard Base
211 Belver Avenue
North Kingstown, RI 02852

Application Requirements

View the full list of Application Requirements at <http://www.143aw.ang.af.mil/careers/index.asp>

(Those that do not meet the application requirements are encouraged to attend in preparation for future pilot openings.)

Please RSVP

Email: 143Pilots@gmail.com with "Open House RSVP" in the subject line.
Your RSVP along with a state or government issued photo ID will be required at the front gate

