Military & DoD Civilian Voters and Social Media

This year America will go to the polls to vote for US Representatives, Senators and President of the United States. Did you know there are restrictions to what a Soldier or a DoD Civilian employee can say or do in regards to political participation? This is to include what you do or say on any of your social media sites.

Here are a few guidelines that may be helpful:

- The Hatch Act restricts partisan political activities of civilian DoD employees. DoD policy further restricts the partisan political activities of certain political appointees. Military Personnel: Have similar rules which are described in DoD Directive 1344.10, Political Activities by Members of the Armed Forces.
- What is Political Activity - is an activity directed toward the success or failure of a political party; a candidate for partisan political office (beginning with fundraising or declaration of candidacy); OR a partisan political group. What is Non-Partisan Activity -Any activity not associated with the success of a political party or candidate for partisan political office.
- All DoD Civilians May- Vote, Make a financial contribution to a campaign, Express personal opinions about candidates and issues, Sign nominating petitions, Attend political rallies and conventions, Participate in nonpartisan activities.
- All DoD Civilians May NOT - Run for partisan office, Engage in political activity ON DUTY or IN THE FEDERAL WORKPLACE (do not use DoD email account!), Solicit, accept, or receive political contributions, Misuse official authority to affect an election.
- An Active Duty (AD) member may become a “friend” of, or “like,” the Facebook page, or “follow” the Twitter account of a political party or partisan candidate, campaign, group, or cause. However, AD members will refrain from engaging in activities with respect to those entities’ social media accounts that would constitute political activity. This would include, for example, suggesting that others “like,” “friend,” or “follow” the political party, partisan political candidate, campaign, group, or cause, or forwarding an invitation or solicitation from said entities to others.
- Active Duty service members MAY - Vote, Express personal opinions about political candidates and issues, but not as a representative of the U.S. military, Join a political club and attend partisan and nonpartisan political meetings, debates, conventions, or activities as a spectator, when not in uniform, Sign a petition to place a candidate’s name on an official election ballot, Make monetary contributions to a political campaign or party, Display a political bumper sticker on a personal vehicle, Write a letter to the editor or post a blog, stating a personal opinion (the opinion must specify that the state views are those of the individual and not of the Department and may not solicit votes for or against a partisan candidate), Participate in nonpartisan activities that are not specifically identified with a political party, such as a referendum question or a municipal ordinance on for example, tax or environmental issues.

Transition Program Becomes Mandatory for Service Members

Beginning in late 2013, a mandatory five to seven day transition program will be replacing the voluntary three-day Transition Assistance Program (TAP). Seven military installations have begun pilot programs to test out the Transition Goals Planning Success, or Transition GPS. This program is designed to help ease the tension for service members and their families as they are planning to separate or retire from the military. At the time of implementation of Transition GPS in late 2013, an estimated 300,000 service members will have completed the pilot program.

Transition GPS, is broken into three sessions:

- Two days will be dedicated to core curriculum training, which consists of going over personal finances, family adjustments, Department of Veterans Affairs benefits, and mentorship opportunities.
- Three days of the program will be spent on a Department of Labor employment workshop, involving resume writing, practice job interviews, job search practice, and how to use social media.
- The last two days are optional. These two days consist of three focused tracks:
  - College-bound - financial aid, classroom adjustments
  - Working - career technical training, certification information
  - Entrepreneurs - small business startup instructions

Transition GPS will include a pre-separation assessment, individual counseling for every service member, and development of a personal transition plan. As with TAP, family members are strongly encouraged to attend Transition GPS with their service member.

This change from TAP was initiated by the difficulties that some service members experience reintegrating into civilian life and the high veterans unemployment rate. In late 2011, Congress passed legislation calling for improvements and making transition programs mandatory for all service members.

Did you know?

- A U.S. Government official on sensitive travel to Iraq created a security risk for himself and others by tweeting* his location and activities every few hours.
- A family on vacation kept friends up-to-date via online profiles; their home was burglarized while they were away.
- New computer viruses and trojans that successfully target information on SNSs are on the rise.
- Some foreign investors, including government and commercial entities known to be involved with organized criminal activity, own large stakes in certain SNSs.
- Information in SNS profiles has led to people losing job offers, getting fired, and even being arrested.
- SNSs have become a haven for identity thieves and con artists trying to use your information against you.
- Several kidnapping, rape and murder cases were linked to SNSs where the victims first connected with their attackers.
- Over 90,000 registered sex offenders were removed from one popular SNS... and those were the ones who used their real names.
- According to the Al Qaeda Handbook, terrorists search online for data about "Government personnel, officers, important personalities, and all matters related to them (residence, work place, times of leaving and returning, and children, places visited)."

Running Technique Clinic

Do you want to learn to run more efficiently and with less strain on your back and knees? Do you need to run faster for your next APFT or race? Are your lungs on fire when you run uphill? Do your joints hurt when you run downhill? This 90 minute clinic will teach you how to position your body and foot strike to maximize your momentum and reduce your injuries. The clinics will be scheduled a few times a month at King Field House and Long Gym. There are only 4-5 minutes of running during the clinic for gait analysis so the clinic is fine for brand new runners. Clinics can also be scheduled for groups (unit PT, FRGs, etc) by contacting Angi. The clinic costs $15 per person and includes instructional handouts. Please come dressed in running clothes to start the clinic indoors and then move outside for the gait analysis and uphill and downhill running section.

If possible, please sign-up and pay in advance with Vincent Spencer (Fitness Coordinator) upstairs in the Functional Fitness Area at King Field House. The next class will be held on August 8th at 6:30am. For questions or upcoming April and May dates, please contact Angi Buckley at angibuckley@yahoo.com.
