USDA United States Department of Agriculture / Agricultural Research Service
Administrative and Financial Management
Serving the Research, Education and Economic Agencies

Please visit our Human Resources Division Systems website.

This site was established to provide you up-to-date information about the Human Resources Systems we currently use, or are planning for use within the REE Mission Area agencies.  Your comments regarding the systems as well as the website are welcome.

The Human Resources Division is dedicated to administering a top-notch Federal Human Resources program.  We are using automation to enhance the services we provide, empower employees, better administer Human Resources programs, and to better enable our managers and supervisors to manage their Human Resources.  This can come in the form of more self-service systems, access to information and trends, or the automation of manual business processes.  We do not see automation as the end-all and be-all of our mission, but as an important tool that will enable the REE Mission Area agencies and employees to more efficiently accomplish our mission.

We welcome your suggestions regarding our site, the systems and how we can improve them, ideas for new systems, or the merger of existing systems to make our automated tools more efficient, user friendly, and most importantly, ensure that they are meeting the needs of our customers – You.

Kit Hoyle
Deputy Director, Human Capital Planning and Development
Human Resources Division