4. APPROVED CHANGE:

    a. Brief Overview of Change: Due to the delayed implementation for ISO 3166-1 country code standard, this administrative ADC updates related DLMS documentation to restore the name change for Country & Activity codes (Logistics Qualifier 85/85*) and to remove the previously published "September 30, 2012" implementation date established under ADC 448.

    b. Background:

        (1) On June 6, 2011, USD(AT&L) released a policy memorandum, subject, "Department of Defense Country Code Standard" mandating ISO 3166-1 as the sole country code standard for DOD with an implementation date of September 30, 2012. Subsequently, DLA Logistics Management Standards Office issued ADC 448 to notify DLMS users of the implementation details and added the "September 30, 2012" implementation date to all the DLMS Supplements.

        (2) In 2012, OUSD(AT&L) transitioned the oversight of Country Codes implementation to the National Geospatial-Intelligence Agency (NGA). NGA established the Country Code Working Group (CCWG) to govern the Geopolitical Entities, Names, and Codes (GENC) Standard. The GENC Standard provides the names and codes for U.S. recognized entities and subdivisions, and is in alignment with ISO-3166-1. All entity names within the GENC are in compliance with the United States Board on Geographic Names.

        (3) On August 21, 2012, CCWG announced that the target implementation date contained in the USD(AT&L) memo will be slipped beyond September 30, 2012. The National Center for Geospatial Intelligence Standards is working with OUSD(AT&L) to issue a revised memorandum updating the content of the memo and aligning the transition deadline to the availability of the GENC Standard and the mediation service. Upon issuance of the revised USD(AT&L) memorandum, the DLA Logistics Management Standards Office will release another administrative addendum to ADC 448 to align with the new implementation date.

        (4) This administrative change does not affect the DoDAAD and MAPAD address line format changes in ADC 448 or ADC 448A.

        (5) The original "Country and Activity Code" table (Logistics Qualifier 85/85*) contains a combination of MILSTRIP country codes, and Security Cooperation (SC) Customer Codes used by the Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) for Security Assistance purposes. In preparation for the ISO-3166-1 country code implementation, ADC 448 directed the mixed-purpose codes be separated so that the MILSTRIP country codes can be synchronized with the ISO-3166-1 country codes (new name: GENC Standard), and the SC Customer Codes would only contain codes authorized by the DSCA. Hence, the prior name, "Country and Activity Code" was changed to "Security Cooperation (SC) Customer Code". The name change was made to DLMS Supplements, Logistics Qualifier 85/85*, MILSTRIP Manual/Appendices, and MAPAD Manual. Given the delayed implementation of the GENC Standard, these mixed-purpose codes cannot be separated until the new country codes implementation is in place; therefore, the prior name, "Country and Activity Code" must be restored. The term "Security Cooperation (SC) Customer Code" will be used in the DLMS Supplements/DLMS notes or "Country & Activity Code" definition to refer to the Security Assistance usage (even though all the codes will be stored in the same table).

    c. Describe Approved Change in Detail:

        (1) DLMS Logistics Qualifier Updates: DLA Logistics Management Standards Office will update the definition in Logistics Qualifier 85 & 85* per enclosure 1.

        (2) DLMS Supplements Updates: DLA Logistics Management Standards Office will remove references to "September 30, 2012" and update related notes per enclosure 2. The impacted DLMS Supplements are 511M, 511R, 842A, 842D, 842R, 856M, 846R, 856S, 856, 869F and 940R.

    d. Revision to DLMS Manual: See enclosure 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8.

5. REASON FOR CHANGE:

    a. Synchronize DLMS documents with the current status of the GENC Standard.

    b. Due to the delayed implementation of GENC standard, the current mixed-purpose codes (MILSTRIP and SC Customer Codes) must remain in Logistics Qualifier 85 & 85* until the GENC Standard is implemented. The name change approved under ADC 448 must be restored from "Security Cooperation (SC) Customer Code" to "Country and Activity Code".

6. ADVANTAGES AND DISADVANTAGES:

    a. Advantages: DLMS documents will be up to date.

    b. Disadvantages: None

7. ESTIMATED TIME LINE/IMPLEMENTATION TARGET: DLA Logistics Management Standards Office will update DLMS Supplements and LOGDRMS within seven days from the approval date. MILSTRIP and MAPAD manuals will be updated for the next DLMS publication.

8. ESTIMATED SAVING/COST AVOIDANCE ASSOCIATED WITH IMPLEMENTATION: N/A

9. IMPACT:

    a. New DLMS Data Elements: There are no new DLMS data elements introduced by this change.

    b. Changes to DLMS Data Elements: Update the definition for Country and Activity Codes per Enclosure 1. DLMS Supplements – Update DLMS notes for Data Element 26 Country Code and Qualifier 85 Country and Activity Codes per Enclosure 2.

    c. Automated Information Systems (AIS): If your AIS has already programmed the change based on ADC 448, do not release to production on September 30, 2012. DLA Logistics Management Standards Office will issue an addendum with the revised GENC implementation date when available.

    d. Non-DLA Logistics Management Standards Publications: Components should update their publications as needed to reflect this new guidance.

MILITARY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM ADDRESS DIRECTORY

C3.13. CONSTRUCTION OF CANADIAN MILITARY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM ADDRESS CODES FOR FOREIGN MILITARY SALES. Since Canada has no CONUS freight forwarders, their ship-to and mark-for addresses are the same; therefore, shipments are made directly to the in country destination point. Because of this, the Canadian requisition number and supplementary addresses are different to accommodate the unique construction of their MAPACs. To construct a Canadian MAPAC, use the Service code from the first position of the supplementary address (MILSTRIP rp 45; next the second and third position of the document number (MILSTRIP rp 31 and rp 32 (two-digit Security Cooperation (SC) Customer Code) (formally country code)); next rp 33 (zero filled); and finally, rp 46 and rp 47 from the supplementary address.
