MEMORANDUM OF CONVERSATION

PARTICIPANTS: Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, Assistant to the President for National Security Affairs
Galley
Major/Lieutenant General Brent Scowcroft, Deputy Assistant to the President for National Security
Affairs

DATE AND TIME: August 31, 197__ ?

PLACE:

Lunch or breakfast with Colby Wednesday or Thursday

White --

Old organization. Aircraft diverted to El Toro. Called and came down which aircraft was being serviced.

Galley: All things are within ^{the} grasp of France except early warning. That is impossible but essential -- which is better for the French, assuming they wish to attack about ten cities, to have MRV or MIRV.

Galley: In order to analyze this, we need to know perfectly the defensive systems.

Kissinger: We can analyze this subject jointly.

Galley: Important next step is to discuss and evaluate our objectives.

Kissinger: Passing intelligence and critiquing your program will not require Congressional notification.

Galley: We will need to buy _____ equipment for underground testing.

? B _____: We have already asked.

Kissinger: I will have to find out where it stands. This is a bureaucratic problem -- can't be handled privately, but you make a request and our bureaucracy evaluates and makes a decision.
