

Belva M. Martin

Current Position

GAO: Director, Acquisition and Sourcing Management Team responsible for portfolio related to protection of the nation's critical technologies, including export controls; the defense industrial base; navy shipbuilding, defense acquisition workforce; and army modernization programs.

Experience

32 years of federal service, 31 with GAO. Has led work covering a broad spectrum of major management and public policy issues, including government-wide human capital, EEO, and diversity issues, as well as modernization of the nation's air traffic control system.

Education

Bachelor's degree in Political Science/Public Administration from South Carolina State University

Masters degree in Political Science from Howard University

Awards

Recipient of numerous team and GAO-wide awards, including Meritorious Service Award (twice), EEO, and Client Services