PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 861, The NSP Termination Act, would rescind all unobligated balances made available for the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) authorized by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Public Law 111–203; 124 Stat. 2209; 42 U.S.C. 5301 note) and terminate the program.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

H.R. 861 was introduced by Rep. Gary G. Miller to terminate the Neighborhood Stabilization Program. Congress has appropriated approximately $7 billion in three rounds of funding for the Neighborhood Stabilization Program: $4 billion in initial funding on July 30, 2008 (NSP1); $2 billion in additional funding in H.R. 1, The American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 (NSP2); and $1 billion in additional funding in the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform Act (NSP3).

Eligible uses for funds include emergency assistance to state and local governments to acquire, develop, redevelop, or demolish foreclosed homes. For NSP2 and NSP3, the eligibility requirements also include the establishment of financing mechanisms to purchase foreclosed homes, the purchase and rehabilitation of abandoned or foreclosed homes, land banking of foreclosed homes, demolition of blighted structures, and redevelopment of vacant or demolished property. NSP1 funding priority was given to cities, urban areas, rural areas, and low- and moderate-income areas. Additional consideration was given to communities with the greatest percentage of foreclosures, highest percentage of homes financed by subprime mortgage loans, or those identified by the state or local government as most likely to face a significant rise in the rate of home foreclosures. NSP2 was allocated through a competitive grant program, with the grant recipients primarily being local and state governments as well as non-profit entities.

Many have questioned HUD’s ability to properly monitor the use of such extraordinary amounts of money being spent at the state level in a number of diverse ways as well as the capacity of non-profit groups to deploy and use these funds effectively. The Inspector General for HUD has already identified multiple misuses of NSP money at the state level, and GAO has questioned the information systems in place at HUD used to track NSP. Moreover, there has been little proof to show whether NSP has resolved the root causes of the increase in foreclosures—an excess of housing supply and the depreciation of overinflated home prices. In most cases, the NSP continues to extend and further exacerbate the current housing downturn and do more harm than good.

The Neighborhood Stabilization Program represents a costly bailout for the lenders, servicers and real estate speculators who made risky bets on the housing market and will now be able to offload their foreclosed properties onto the government. Such an approach subsidizes bad investments and contributes to moral hazard by signaling to future market participants that their downside risks will be assumed by the government if their investments sour.

COMMITTEE OVERSIGHT FINDINGS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee has held a hearing and made findings that are reflected in this report.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee establishes the following performance related goals and objectives for this legislation:

The purposes of H.R. 861, The NSP Termination Act, are to rescind all unobligated balances made available for the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) as authorized by the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Public Law 111–203; 124 Stat. 2209; 42 U.S.C. 5301 note) and to terminate the program.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY, ENTITLEMENT AUTHORITY, AND TAX EXPENDITURES

In compliance with clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee adopts as its own the estimate of new budget authority, entitlement authority, or tax expenditures or revenues contained in the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

COMMITTEE COST ESTIMATE

The Committee adopts as its own the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the following is the cost estimate provided by the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, March 11, 2011.

Hon. SPENCER BACHUS,
*Chairman, Committee on Financial Services,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 861, the NSP Termination Act.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Dan Hoople.

Sincerely,

DOUGLAS W. ELMENDORF.

Enclosure.

H.R. 861—NSP Termination Act

H.R. 861 would terminate the Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) and would rescind certain unobligated balances associated with the program. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 861 would not affect direct spending because CBO expects that all funds targeted by the legislation would be obligated by the time the bill is enacted. The bill also would not affect revenues; therefore, pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply.

The bill contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act and would impose no costs on state, local, or tribal governments.

Since 2008, the Congress has provided about $7 billion to the NSP for grants to state and local governments to purchase and redevelop foreclosed and abandoned homes and residential properties (see Public Laws 110-289, 111-5, and 111-203). As of February 2011, about $6 billion of those funds have been obligated (that is, the federal government has entered into a legal commitment to make those funds available to grantees). CBO expects that the program will obligate the remaining $1 billion over the next few months.

H.R. 861 would terminate the NSP once all obligations of the program have been liquidated. The legislation also would cancel unobligated balances that remain from the $1 billion provided by Public Law 111-203. (The legislation would have no effect on the $6 billion made available by Public Laws 110-289 and 111-5.)

For this estimate, CBO assumes H.R. 861 will be enacted in the summer of 2011, at which point all remaining funds are expected to be obligated. Because the bill would only cancel unobligated balances, spending would not be affected.¹

The CBO staff contact for this estimate is Daniel Hoople. The estimate was approved by Theresa Gullo, Deputy Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of Federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates reform Act.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE STATEMENT

No advisory committees within the meaning of section 5(b) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act were created by this legislation.

¹ If the bill was enacted sooner, or if the pace of obligations was slower than anticipated, some unobligated balances may remain at the time of enactment. In that case, the budget authority of the NSP would be reduced by the amount of unobligated balances, resulting in a corresponding decrease in direct spending.

APPLICABILITY TO LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

The Committee finds that the legislation does not relate to the terms and conditions of employment or access to public services or accommodations within the meaning of the section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act.

EARMARK IDENTIFICATION

H.R. 861 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariffs benefits as defined in clause 9 of rule XXI.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short title

This Act may be cited as the “NSP Termination Act.”

Section 2. Rescission of funding for FHA Refinance Program

MINORITY VIEWS

H.R. 861, the “The Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) Termination Act” is one of four bills being advanced by the Majority as a coordinated assault on federal programs designed to address the nationwide housing and foreclosure crisis. The bill would rescind $1 billion which will soon be obligated to states and local governments in the hardest hit communities for the purchase and rehabilitation of foreclosed and abandoned homes, to address blight and deterioration of neighborhoods experiencing a high foreclosure rate.

This program is one of a number of complementary federal programs that address different problems posed by our current housing programs. The other programs that the Majority is shutting down are the HAMP loan modification program, a FHA refinance program that is used in conjunction with principal mortgage reductions, and a loan program for unemployed homeowners to bridge the gap so that homeowners can resume payments when they find a job. At the March 2, 2011, Insurance, Housing and Community Opportunity Subcommittee hearing on these four bills, not a single witness—including the GAO and SIGTARP, who were witnesses called by the Majority—supported shutting down any of these four programs at this time.

NSP has received three rounds of federal funding. NSP1 was authorized and initially funded in the Housing and Economic Recovery Act (HERA) (Pub. L. 110–289), NSP2 was funded in the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act (ARRA) (Pub. L. 111–5) and NSP3 was funded in the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act (Dodd-Frank) (Pub. L. 111–203). The bill addresses all three rounds of funding. Section 2 of the bill would rescind and cancel all unobligated balances for NSP3. Section 3 would repeal the NSP language in HERA and, with respect to NSP1 and NSP2 funds made available, such funds are governed by NSP requirements in effect before repeal. Section 3 also terminates NSP1 and NSP2 upon the liquidation of obligated amounts. As amended at the March 9, 2011, Committee mark-up, the bill also requires that not later than five days after enactment, HUD shall publish on its website the following statement: “The Neighborhood Stabilization Program (NSP) has been terminated. If you are concerned about the impact of foreclosed properties in your community, please contact your Member of Congress, state, county and local officials for assistance in mitigating the impacts of foreclosed properties on your community.”

While the Majority argues that this program is a burden on taxpayers, the original Dodd-Frank conference report included Title XVI “Financial Crisis Assessment and Fund” was which was negotiated by House and Senate Democratic Conferees and included a fee on financial institutions to pay for the implementation costs associated with the bill, additional funding for mortgage assistance to unemployed homeowners and a third round of funding for NSP. This provision was ultimately rejected by Senate Republicans. As a result, while the Majority may complain about the impact of this NSP funding and the other Dodd-Frank funding provision for unemployed homeowner assistance on taxpayers, it is Republicans who insisted on blocking this fee on large financial institutions, thereby shifting the cost of these two provisions to taxpayers.

HERA provided $3.92 billion in NSP1 grant funds to all states and selected local governments on a formula basis. ARRA provided an additional $2 billion in NSP2 funds to states, local governments, nonprofits and a consortium of nonprofit entities on a competitive basis and for technical assistance. Dodd-Frank provides $1 billion in grants to all states and selected local governments on a formula basis.

All NSP1 and NSP2 allocations to grantees have been obligated by HUD. As for NSP3, HUD announced formula allocations on September 8, 2010, and, in subsequent guidance, established a deadline of March 1, 2011, for submission of action plans describing the intended uses of NSP3 funds. HUD is in the process of reviewing these plans and expects to obligate all NSP3 funds allocated to states and local governments by March 31, 2011.

NSP was established to help stabilize communities that have suffered from foreclosures and abandonment through the purchase and redevelopment of foreclosed and abandoned homes and residential properties. NSP grants provide critical assistance to state and local governments and non-profit developers that collaborate to acquire foreclosed or abandoned property; to demolish or rehabilitate acquired or blighted properties; and/or to establish financing mechanisms such as down-payment and closing cost assistance to low- to middle-income homebuyers. Grantees can also create land banks to assemble, temporarily manage, and dispose of foreclosed homes. NSP grantees must use at least 25% of the funds appropriated to house individuals or families whose incomes do not exceed 50% of the area median income. In addition, all activities funded by NSP must benefit low- and moderate-income persons whose income does not exceed 120% of the area median income.

At the March 2, 2011, hearing, Mercedes M. Marquez, HUD Assistant Secretary for Community Planning and Development provided detailed information about the major impact that NSP is having in mitigating the negative effects that vacant and abandoned properties have on communities. From the total NSP appropriation of $7 billion, HUD estimates that 100,000 properties in the hardest-hit areas will be impacted. This number of properties makes up almost 20 percent of the real estate owned (REO) properties over the last 18 months in NSP-targeted areas. Grantees report that more than 36,000 properties are either under construction or rehab, a third of the overall estimate. Moreover, HUD estimates that NSP will support 93,000 jobs nationwide.

Assistant Secretary Marquez reported that as of December 2010, NSP1 grantees have produced more than 5,300 households in rehabilitated or newly constructed units and more than 6,000 households have received direct homeownership assistance to acquire formerly foreclosed or abandoned properties. In addition, more than 9,700 blighted properties have been demolished or cleared with NSP1 funds. NSP2 grantees project serving 11,000 households through rehabilitation and new construction and more than 5,200 households through direct homeownership support, and about 3,800 blighted properties cleared. HUD estimates that at least 6,000 households will benefit from NSP3 through purchase/rehabilitation of foreclosed or abandoned residential property or new construction on redeveloped lots; and about 3,000 households will benefit from direct homeownership assistance. Rescinding the final $1 billion of NSP3 funding would stall this progress in reclaiming affordable housing and neighborhoods and remove critically needed investments from the hardest hit housing markets.

HUD has conducted extensive oversight of the NSP program and grantees. Assistant Secretary Marquez testified that such oversight includes monitoring, risk assessment, and auditing NSP grantees as well as providing training and technical assistance to address grantee capacity issues. To date, HUD's Office of Inspector General (OIG) has completed 42 NSP compliance audits. Although the OIG found numerous accounting discrepancies and inaccurate and incomplete reporting by NSP 1 grantees, several OIG audits found that grantees generally complied with NSP1 requirements. In addition, a June 2010, OIG audit of the NSP2 competition (HUD OIG Audit Report 2010-AT-0001) found that HUD properly evaluated the applications and selected the grantees for NSP2 funding.

In December 2010, GAO completed a HERA-mandated report on NSP1 (GAO-11-48) that examined HUD's implementation of NSP1, grantee actions in meeting key NSP1 requirements, actions HUD has taken to mitigate program risks and ensure grantee compliance, and HUD's efforts to collect and assess program data. GAO concluded that HUD established internal control procedures to mitigate risks and promote compliance with program requirements and that for NSP 1 grantees contacted by GAO, they generally showed compliance with program requirements. GAO did find some financial management deficiencies by these grantees, which HUD is requiring that the grantees correct. GAO also found that data on program outputs could be improved and HUD is working to make those improvements.

Finally, Assistant Secretary Marquez's testimony included several examples and case studies where NSP dollars have been efficiently and effectively used to provide affordable housing, create jobs, leverage private investment, and improve communities. Given the positive impact of NSP funding through out the country, several organizations have expressed their strong opposition to H.R. 861 and support for continued funding of the program. These national, state, local organizations include the National Association of Counties, National League of Cities, U.S. Conference of Mayors, National Community Development Association, National Association for County Community and Economic Development, Council of State Community Development Agencies, Enterprise Community Partners, Inc., Association for Neighborhood and Housing Development, Arizona Foreclosure Prevention Task Force, Atlanta Neighborhood Development Partnership, Inc., Center for Community Progress, Center for New York City Neighborhoods, Citizens' Housing and Planning Association, City of Chicago, Department of
