Explore the Flint Hills through a collection of guided experiences that examine wildlife and cultural history. Footsteps in the Flint Hills is designed to educate youth ages 7 to 9 about the Flint Hills utilizing interactive teaching methods and hands-on learning activities. A series of three two-hour educational programs will take place each Saturday until Aug. 4. Participants will learn about the day's topic, and they also will have the opportunity to make new friends and form a better understanding of the wildlife in the Flint Hills. "The programs will be very interactive and will help the participants learn and have lots of fun while doing so," said Lisa Stork, educator. Each event is $10 per child or $9 for youth members and will give the children an opportunity to experience the Flint Hills in a new way. Upcoming class: Fire on the Prairie – 9 to 11 a.m. Aug. 4. For more information or to register, call 785-587-2726.

OCSC - Break out your poodle skirts, initial sweaters, and bobby socks for this 50s extravaganza. Ft Riley to host National Night Out: In conjunction with the 2012 National Night Out, Fort Riley will have its own community police awareness event from 4 to 9 p.m. Aug. 7 at the Forsyth Neighborhood Center. The USO Fort Riley; Directorate of Emergency Services; Directorate of Family and Morale, Welfare and Recreation; Picerne Military Housing; Army Substance Abuse Program and Unified School District 475 Geary County Schools will work hand-in-hand to bring the free event to the Soldiers and Families of the installation. A special No Dough Dinner will take place simultaneously. The USO Fort Riley will serve a free cookout style dinner and drinks from 5 to 7 p.m. Since 1984, the annual NNO has attempted to increase awareness on topics such as police and firefighter programs, drug prevention, neighborhood watch programs and crime prevention. According to the national website, NNO is designed to: Heighten crime and drug prevention awareness, Generate support for and participation in local anti-crime programs, Strengthen neighborhood spirit and police-community partnerships, Send a message to criminals letting them know that neighborhoods are organized and fighting back. More than 37 million people attended NNO in 2012 in about 15,000 communities from all 50 states, U.S. territories, Canadian cities and military installations all over the world. Fort Riley is hoping to see between 500 and 800 attendees this year, according to Maj. Tommy Kerr, chief of operations, DES. "Just like the national (NNO), we want to draw the community in and provide them an opportunity to meet the local police that are providing this day-to-day service ... see the human dimension behind the uniform," Kerr said, adding he hopes all attendees will walk away with a clear message on safety. Stephen Ragan, chief, FRPD, said he thinks the event will play an important part in building partnerships within the Fort Riley community. "With the fire department and the police department being there, it strengthens the ties between the two and shows that we're there with the community. (NNO) is a valuable tool, as far as law enforcement goes, and strengthening the partnerships that we have with the community," Ragan said. The following activities will be available for adults and children: D.A.R.E. static display, Bicycle registration, McGruff child identification system, Special reaction team static display, Game warden static display, Traffic patrol static display, Fire truck static display, Fire safety trailer, McGruff, DAREN, the D.A.R.E. Lion and Sparky the Fire Dog, Military working dog demonstrations, iWATCH booth, Children's inflatables, Drug and alcohol displays, Seat belt convincer, Motorcycle simulator, and Safety-related items to give away. Pets are strictly prohibited at this event. To learn more about NNO, visit www.nationaltownwatch.org/nno By Pamela Redford, 1st Inf. Div. Post
