

Related Books from the Office of History

World War II

Builders and Fighters: U.S. Army Engineers in World War II
edited by Barry Fowle EP 860-1-42

Contributions of the Corps of Engineers in mobilization, military construction, research and development, civil works, and combat engineering in the Far East and Europe.

The Corps of Engineers: The War Against Germany
by Alfred M. Beck and others CMH 10-22

Army Engineer operations during the campaigns in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, and Europe.

The Corps of Engineers: The War Against Japan
by Karl C. Dod CMH 10-6

Army Engineers in the Aleutians, Southwest Pacific, Southwest Asia, and the island hopping campaign to Japan.

The Damned Engineers
by Janice Holt Giles EP 860-1-23

The 291st Engineer Combat Battalion held a portion of the northern shoulder in the Battle of the Bulge.

The G.I. Journal of Sergeant Giles
compiled by Janice Holt Giles EP 860-1-34

The diary and letters of a soldier in the 291st Engineer Combat Battalion. This battalion worked its way across Europe from its landing at Normandy to the end of the war.

Holding the Line: The 51st Engineer Combat Battalion and the Battle of the Bulge

by Ken Hechler EP 860-1-38

Personal accounts of the Battle of the Bulge recorded by wartime historian Captain Ken Hechler and members of the 51st immediately after the battle.

Put 'Em Across: A History of the 2d Engineer Special Brigade, 1942-1945
EP 860-1-33

The 2d Engineer Special Brigade participated in 87 amphibious landings in the Pacific during World War II including Papua, New Guinea, the Bismarck Archipelago, and the Philippines.

World War II—Engineer Memoirs Series

MG Hugh J. Casey EP 860-1-18
MacArthur's Chief Engineer in the Pacific from 1933 to 1940 and again in 1941. He commanded the Army Services Command and Sixth U.S. Army.

LTG Frederick J. Clarke EP 860-1-5
Director, planning, HQ Army Services Command. He was involved in airfield construction on Ascension Island. As Chief of Engineers he expanded the Corps' role in the environmental movement of the late 1960s.

GEN William M. Hoge EP 860-1-25
Commander during Alaska highway construction. He commanded troops during the Normandy Landing and Battle of the Bulge. He was a corps commander during the Korean War and commanding general of U.S. Army, Europe.

LTG Arthur G. Trudeau EP 860-1-26
Commander of amphibian engineers in the Pacific and Base X in Manila. He served on the War Crimes Tribunal. He commanded troops in Korea and was the Army's Chief of Research and Development.

MG William E. Potter EP 860-1-12
Commander, 25th Armored Engineer Battalion, 6th Armored Division and was involved with mobilization, planning, and psychological warfare in Europe. He was also governor of the Panama Canal Zone.

LTG Walter K. Wilson, Jr. EP 860-1-8
Commander, U.S. Forces in Burma, and Deputy Engineer, Southeast Asia Command. He had several district and division engineer assignments and was a Chief of Engineers.

Korean War

Bridging the Imjin EP 860-1-32
The 84th Engineer Construction Battalion's critical requirements to construct two secure bridges over the unpredictable waters of the Imjin during the last year of the Korean War.

Cold War

American Forces in Berlin: Cold War Outpost 1945-1994
by Robert Grathwol and Donita Moorhus
Engineer involvement included maintaining and building facilities that supported the American forces and repairing and building runways during the Berlin airlift.

Building Air Bases in the Negev: The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers in Israel, 1979-1982
by Frank N. Schubert CMH 70-45

A major construction project managed by the Corps of Engineers that helped bring peace between Israel and Egypt, two long-time antagonists in the Middle East.

Individual copies of these books are available without charge to Corps employees.

Send your request on official letterhead stationery.

Please include the EP or CMH number.

Write —
U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
Publications Depot
2803 52nd Avenue
Hyattsville, MD 20781-1102

FAX —
(301) 394-0084