PREFACE

This report is produced and distributed by the U.S. Department of Commerce, International Trade Administration, Trade Development, Office of Travel and Tourism Industries, in cooperation with the Department of Homeland Security, U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). Office of Travel and Tourism Industries assumed the lead role in distribution of this report after the U.S. Department of Commerce, U.S. Travel & Tourism Administration (USTTA) was closed on April 27, 1996. USTTA assumed the management of this program from the Department of Transportation (DOT), Volpe Center, in July 1995. DOT started this program in 1976.

The report contains world area travel statistical data and is available as a subscription service to anyone who wishes to acquire this information for a fee. The funds obtained from subscribers are used to support in obtaining access to this data from USCIS, the processing and distribution of this data base in the form of reports and electronic data files. The report is compiled using data collected by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services from the INS Form I-92. This form must be completed for all international arriving and departing flights with the exception of Canada. The information collected provides point-to-point air traffic totals between the U.S. and other countries around the world. Information is also collected on airport to airport traffic flows. This information is further subset by providing figures on the number of passengers who were on a U.S. flag carrier or a foreign flag carrier. In addition, a breakdown of scheduled and charter flight can be obtained as well as if the passengers were U.S. citizens or non-U.S. citizens. The I-92 data base is the only source for estimates of how many U.S. travelers left the country.

Several enhancements to the database were made in 1996 which might result in some anomalies when comparing the 1997 data to previous years. The enhancements were added to include the most current coding information for all airlines, airports, and countries.

The U.S. International Air Travel Statistics Report (or I-92 data base) is a complementary piece to a number of other research programs generated by ITA's Office of Travel and Tourism Industries. The I-92 data from this research program are used to expand the survey estimates for the Survey of International Travelers (or In-Flight Survey), on U.S. residents traveling abroad. The In-Flight Survey provides survey data on travel characteristics and spending patterns of international air travelers to and from the United States, including: the traveler's residence, purpose of trip, port of entry, destinations visited, duration of stay, type of lodging, information sources used, means of booking trip, use of package trips, transportation used while within/outside the U.S., demographics and expenditure categories.
