Possible Consideration of a martial law resolution (Rules) The Rules committee has 'martial law' authority in the House, which allows the House to consider any Rule on the same day it is reported from the Rules committee. There is martial law authority in the House through the end of the 112th Congress.

Possible Consideration of legislation related to the so-called 'fiscal cliff'

Possible Consideration of Emergency Supplemental Appropriations legislation

The Daily Quote

“Of all things, I am actually getting modestly hopeful that we might have a productive 113th Congress. Of course, our basis of comparison, the 112th, sets the bar absurdly low... It seems clear to me that Speaker John A. Boehner, R-Ohio, has integrated the twin reality that President Barack Obama won re-election handily and that the GOP strategy of voting as a parliamentary minority — united in opposition to everything coming from the White House — is a losing one for the future... There are many other areas where cooperation and compromise would win kudos from most Americans.”

- Norman Ornstein, Roll Call, 11/14/12
