

All photos show different views of the SUV-100 UV spectroradiometer installation on top of the UIC-NARL (Ukpeagvik Inupiat Corporation/[formerly] Naval Arctic Research Laboratory) facility at Barrow. The instrument is part of the NSF Arctic Observing Network.

Barrow_Instruments

Calibration of the SUV-100.
The brown barrel protects the calibration from ambient light.

Hoar frost on a PSP pyranometer.