

All photos show different views of the SUV-150B UV spectroradiometer installation at Summit, Greenland. The instrument is part of the NSF Arctic Observing Network.

Summit_Instruments

Double monochromator of the SUV-150B spectroradiometer

Interior of the SUV-150B

Support electronics

SUV-150B closed up (in background) with support electronics (in foreground) inside the "Green House" at Summit Station.

Exterior of "Green House" with roof penetration for SUV-150B optics

Entrance optics of SUV-150B (foreground) a PSP pyranometer and GUV-511 multi-filter radiometer (middle ground) and the "Big House" at Summit (background)