Do not concur with format.

If this is going to be "Policy" i.e. this is a policy statement, then the format should be an official memorandum for record and be done in memorandum format.

This memo clearly addresses the items that ILARNG is committed to addressing. However, the last line states "Adherence to these commitments, and the ISO 14001 standards....."

It does not appear that this memo ever addresses ISO 14001 and most readers do not know what this are, including myself. Either add these to the statement or remove them. However, new information should not be included in the closing sentence.
