

JOSEPH E. MISANIN
Deputy Director, Program Operations
Office of Small Business Programs
Office of the Undersecretary of Defense
Acquisition, Technology & Logistics

Joseph Misanin is the Deputy Director at the Department of Defense Office of Small Business Programs. He is responsible for the Small Business Innovation Research, Small Business Technology Transfer, Mentor-Protégé, and Indian Incentive programs.

Previously, Mr. Misanin has served in a number of program management and engineering positions at the Department of the Navy, including his last assignment as the Deputy Program Manager for the Command and Control Directorate, Program Executive Office (Integrated Warfare Systems), where he managed an ACAT 1D program. Mr. Misanin's experience encompasses a variety of warfare systems including missiles, gun fire control, radar, electro-optics, navigation, display/processing, and sensor netting. He has worked on domestic and international programs, with assignments at the Naval Warfare Center/China Lake, Applied Physics Laboratory/Johns Hopkins University, Naval Ship Weapon Systems Engineering Station/Port Hueneme, the Naval Sea Systems Command, as well as a variety of Program Executive Offices.

He has been a member of the Senior Executive Service since 2009. Mr. Misanin holds a Bachelor of Electrical Engineering from the University of Rochester, a Master of Engineering Administration from Virginia Tech, and a Master of Science in National Resource Strategy from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.