Department of the Navy, 15-21 May 90
(d) SECNAV ltr of 1 Mar 91

1. Purpose. To establish command policies and procedures for the implementation and management of the Naval Sea Systems Command (NAVSEA) Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Employment (EEO/AE) Programs in accordance with references (a) and (b).

2. Applicability. This instruction is applicable to all supervisors and managers of NAVSEA Headquarters.

3. Background

a. Reference (c) provides the findings of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) review of the EEO/AE Programs of the Department of the Navy. Reference (d) reiterates Affirmative Employment Program policy and expresses concern regarding some of the findings. The findings included a lack of management accountability, failure to disseminate information, and failure to make significant progress in achieving full representation of minorities and women and people with targeted disabilities.

b. Reference (d) challenged COMNAVSEA in particular, as the Navy's largest employer (33%), to develop and implement programs to effectively carry out our responsibilities in support of EEO/AE Programs initiatives.

4. Policy. Both Military and Civilian Supervisors must accept responsibility to recruit and select quality people to meet affirmative employment goals. Accountability for Navy progress towards the elimination of underrepresentation is the key to program success and shall be reflected in fitness reports and performance appraisals. The objective is to achieve affirmative
