

I, James Redeker, Commissioner of Transportation of the State of Connecticut, hereby declare under the authority vested in me pursuant to Section 13b-26 (f) of the Connecticut General Statutes that an emergency situation exist that demands immediate attention to insure the safe transport of emergency relief supplies.

As the result of Hurricane Sandy, President Obama has declared an Emergency under the Stafford Act. In order to expedite the transport of emergency relief supplies for the next 30 days, divisible load limits will be increased from 80,000 pounds GVW to 92,000 pounds GVW. Loads are limited to emergency relief supplies only; including but not limited to medicine and medical supplies, food and water, fuel and other supplies directly supporting the relief effort.

Accordingly, I intend to employ, in any manner, such assistance as may be required to restore the highway system to a condition that will provide for safe travel.

Dated this 2 day of November ^{Hartford} ~~Newington~~, 2012 at ~~Newington~~, Connecticut.
