

Paul Aumayr Bio.

Paul Aumayr is the Voting Systems Manager at the Maryland State Board of Elections. Paul has been in this position since 2007; having initially joined Maryland's voting system team in 2003. In this position, Paul is responsible for most of the overall direction and implementation of voting system activities throughout the state, including testing, research, certification and the implementation of voting systems process and procedures.

Paul graduated from the University of Brighton (UK), with a Bachelor of Engineering in Electronic and Computer Engineering, in 1996. Since then Paul has had a diverse technical history that has included positions in the oil and gas industry, implementing healthcare and mass transit, both in the US and several countries abroad.