

AMENDMENT TO ENERGY AND WATER
APPROPRIATIONS BILL
OFFERED BY MR. LATOURETTE OF OHIO

On page 63 of the Committee Report, at the end of the text under the heading “Flood Control and Coastal Emergencies” insert the following new paragraph:

The Committee recognizes that a small city, less than 50,000 in population, are at a disadvantage in comparison with their large urban counterparts under the Army Corps of Engineers utilization of high cost-benefit ratios in its budgeting process. The Committee directs the Army Corps of Engineers to consider the impact of flood risk on a small city’s economic viability in determining budget priorities.
