

What's Hot in E-Verify

Order Your Free Employers Handbook

USCIS printed a limited number of the latest M-274 (Rev. 06/01/11), Handbook for Employers: Instructions for Completing Form I-9. Order your free copy today! Visit the Forms by Mail page on www.USCIS.gov or call the USCIS Forms Request Line at 1-800-870-3676.

E-Verify Helps Protect Privacy

Do you know that E-Verify users cannot share login information? Are you curious about what personal information E-Verify collects and how long that information is kept? Visit the E-Verify Privacy FAQ page for answers to questions about E-Verify's privacy policies and learn how E-Verify helps ensure employer and employee privacy is protected.

New EAD and Certificate of Citizenship

USCIS announced the launch of an enhanced Employment Authorization Document (EAD) and a redesigned Certificate of Citizenship (Form N-560) with new features to strengthen security and deter fraud. More than 1 million people will receive the new documents over the next year. Learn more about the features of the new EAD and Form N-560.

What's New on I-9 Central

There is always new information on I-9 Central, the online one-stop source for information and instruction on the use of Form I-9. Among the latest updates captured in the What's New page of I-9 Central: Guidance about the automatic extension of expiring EADs for Liberian and Sudanese TPS beneficiaries. Visit the What's New page for details on this extension and more.

Self Check Available in Additional States

Self Check, a free online service that lets workers verify their own eligibility to work in the U.S., is now accessible to residents of 21 states and D.C. For a complete list of states, visit www.USCIS.gov/SelfCheck

USCIS Introduces Self Check Media Toolkit

USCIS developed a Self Check Media Toolkit, which appears on the Self Check website. The toolkit features the latest press releases, blogs, fliers, facts sheets, presentations, and an interactive Self Check preview. Check out the Self Check Media Toolkit today or visit www.USCIS.gov/SelfCheck to learn more about Self Check.

Self Check in Spanish

Self Check is also available in Spanish at www.USCIS.gov/SelfCheck/Espanol. USCIS Director Mayorkas said, "By offering Self Check to Spanish speakers and making the service more widely available, USCIS makes good on a promise to streamline and protect the integrity of the E-Verify process."

"Conozca Sus Derechos" on November 9

USCIS invites you to "Enlace" a free Spanish-language seminar. Starting at 3:30 p.m. (EST) on November 9, join via teleconference or live Web stream for a presentation on E-Verify employee rights and responsibilities, and an open Q&A forum. Download the Spanish flyer or visit www.USCIS.gov/ENLACE for more.
