(Issue No. 69-39)

FOR RELEASE February 27, 1969

YAMAMOTO BARRED. The SEC today announced the issuance of an order under the Securities Exchange Act (Release 34-8536) barring Tadashi Yamamoto, of Denver, from being associated with any broker or dealer because of violations of the anti-fraud provisions of the Act. Pursuant to Yamamoto's stipulation and consent to the suspension order, the Commission found that during the period December 1963 to April 1967 he engaged in a "fraudulent scheme" in that he induced customers to lend him their securities by falsely representing that such securities would be used for the acquisition by his broker-dealer firm of a seat on a national securities exchange and that 6% interest would be paid on the value of the borrowed securities. Contrary to those representations, Yamamoto, without the knowledge or consent of the customers, caused the borrowed securities to be converted to his own use by pledging them as collateral for personal loans obtained by him and by selling certain of the securities and depositing the proceeds in his personal bank account.

TRANSMITTAL SECURITIES SUSPENDED. The SEC today announced the issuance of a decision under the Securities Exchange Act (Release 34-8534) suspending the operations of Transmittal Securities Corporation, New York securities firm, for 30 business days commencing March 3. The action was based upon an offer of settlement made by the firm ("Transmittal") and three individual respondents, Leo L. Conston and Alfred Benedict, officers and owners of Transmittal, and Melvin Mauskopf, the firm's cashier. The two officers were suspended from association with the firm for periods of fifteen days each, Conston's for the first and Benedict's for the second fifteen days of the firm's 30 day suspension; and Mauskopf was suspended for the last 5 days of such suspension.

These sanctions were based upon violations by Transmittal and the individual respondents of the record-keeping, reporting, hypothecation and credit provisions of the Act and rules thereunder, and the failure of Conston and Benedict reasonably to supervise employees with a view to preventing such violations. As part of the settlement offer, the respondents undertook and represented, among other things, that the firm's books and records are fully posted and are and will be maintained in compliance with applicable rules; that the firm will operate in compliance with the Commission's net capital rules and the margin rules of the Federal Reserve Board; that for three months following the end of its suspension period the firm will restrict its daily average business to 75 order executions per day; and that it will file special reports with the Commission's New York Regional Office concerning its net capital position and average daily transactions.

FUNDAMENTAL INVESTORS RECEIVES ORDER. The SEC has issued an exemption order under the Investment Company Act (Release IC-5621) with respect to a proposal of Fundamental Investors, Inc., Elizabeth, N. J., mutual fund, to issue its shares at their net asset value in exchange for substantially all of the assets of Pitmel, Inc., a personal holding company whose assets on September 30 approximated $1,396,203.

ELECTRONIC CAPITAL CORP. SEEKS ORDER. The SEC has issued an order under the Investment Company Act (Release IC-5622) giving interested persons until March 12 to request a hearing upon an application of Electronic Capital Corporation ("ECC"), a New York investment company, for an order declaring that it has ceased to be an investment company as defined in the Act. Organized in April 1959, ECC was licensed as a small business investment company under the Small Business Investment Act and surrendered its license in January 1968. ECC represents that it is no longer an investment company as defined in the Act, but a holding and/or operating company. As of December 31, its total assets (exclusive of cash and government securities) had a value of $46,151,213, of which $32,081,976, or 69.5%, represented the value of its investments in its four majority owned subsidiaries--Capital Bancorporation, Cypress Communications Corporation, Darcy Industries, Inc. and Ultronix, Inc. ECC owns 98%, 51%, 70% and 80%, respectively, of the voting securities of said subsidiaries. Capital Bancorporation is a holding company, whose principal assets are its holdings of 98% each of the stock of a savings and loan association and of a bank; Cypress is engaged in community antenna television business; Darcy Industries and its subsidiary are engaged in the manufacture and sale of electronic equipment; and Ultronix is a manufacturer of resistors and ceramic capacitors.

HARTFORD FUND SEEKS ORDER. The SEC has issued an order under the Investment Company Act (Release IC-5623) giving interested persons until March 20 to request a hearing upon an application of Hartford Mutual Investment Fund, Inc., Hartford, Conn., for exemption from the $100,000 minimum net worth and certain other provisions of the Act. Organized under Connecticut law in September 1968, the Fund has indicated that its shares will be issued only to Connecticut savings banks and that it is presently managed by a board of directors consisting of savings bankers whose banks will own its stock. The Fund will contract for custodial, transfer agent and dividend disbursing services with Hartford National Bank and Trust Company and for advisory services with Lionel D. Edie & Company, Inc.

VALIC SEEKS ORDER. The SEC has issued an order under the Investment Company Act (Release IC-5624) giving interested persons until March 14 to request a hearing upon an application filed by Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company of America ("Valic"), Washington, D. C., mutual fund, with respect to certain transactions between Valic and American General Insurance Company of Houston, Tex., involving the stock of The Variable Annuity Life Insurance Company, of Houston. American General, through its stock interest in Maryland Casualty Company, owns about one-half of the outstanding stock of Valic. The transactions are said to be not of substantive nature but are designed to change Valic's domicile from the District of Columbia to Texas.

The company now has outstanding 1,300,000 common shares (with a $1.14 per share book value), of which James A. Mather, president, owns 33.8% and management officials as a group 66.1%. Purchasers of the stock being registered will acquire an 18.7% stock interest in the company for an investment of $4,500,000*; present stockholders will then own 81.3%, for which they will have paid an aggregate of $213,729 or an average of about $1.62¹/₂ per share.
