

Massoud Jourabchi

Current Position

Manager of Economic Analysis, Northwest Power and Conservation Council

Professional Experience

Senior Strategic Consultant at PacifiCorp

Energy economist at Portland Energy Conservation Inc.

Principal investigator and forecasting consultant for the State of Massachusetts Executive Office of Energy Resources

Center for Energy and Environmental Studies at Boston University

Education

Doctoral candidate in economics

Masters degree in economics

Masters degree in political economics

William B. Beyers

Current Position

Professor and Department Chair, University of Washington, Department of Geography

Professional Experience

University of Washington, 1962 - Present, multiple positions in Department of Geography
Harvard University, 1971, Visiting Assistant Professor and Research Associate, Regional Science
Cornell University, 1971, Visiting Assistant Professor, Center for Urban Development Research
Swiss Federal Institute of Technology (Geographisches Institut, Eidgenössische Technische Hochschule Zürich), 1987-1988, Guest Professor
Hong Kong Baptist University, University Fellow, 1999

Teaching Fields: Economic Geography, Regional Analysis, Regional Science, Location Theory, Geography of the Pacific Northwest

Education

University of Washington, B.A., 1962, Ph.D., 1967
Special graduate student participant, NSF Summer Institute on Computer Mapping, Special graduate student participant, NSF Summer Institute in Regional Science, University of California, Berkeley, 1964
Northwestern University, 1963
West Seattle High School

Paul C. Sorensen

Current Position

Partner, Belyea, Sorensen, Trottier & Associates (BST)

Professional Experience

Belyea, Sorensen, Trottier & Associates - Partner, 1987 to present

Trade Information Planning Systems - Vice President Consulting, 1987-88

Natural Resources Consultants - Partner, 1988

URS Corporation - Senior Financial Planner 1986-87

TAMS Consultants - Senior Economist, 1981-86

Kramer, Chin & Mayo - Economist, 1979-81

Bassett, Park & Silberberg - Research Analyst, 1976-79

Education

Masters Degree in Economics - University of Washington, 1979

Bachelors Degree in Political Economics - University of Washington, 1976

Lloyd T. O'Carroll, CFA

Current Position

Senior Vice President, Metals Equity Analyst, Davenport & Co.

Professional Experience

Metals Equity Analyst & Chief Economist, BB&T Capital Markets from August 1997 through November 2005. Author of The O'Carroll Aluminum Bulletin on a subscription basis to producers, metal traders, end users, distributors, and others

Corporate Economist, Reynolds Metals Company for 19 years. Functions included:

- Macroeconomic, aluminum industry, & commodity analysis
- Strategic planning & corporate development
- Author of Economic Comments
- Member of Reynolds' Commodity Hedging Committee

Education

Undergraduate & Graduate degrees at North Carolina State University
Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) (1996)