AGRICULTURA

Breaking through concrete : building an urban farm revival

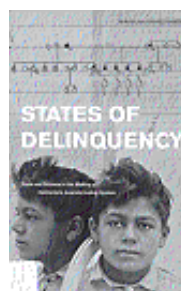

David Hanson and Edwin Marty. (2012)

630.9173 HAN

People have always grown food in urban spaces--on windowsills and sidewalks, and in backyards and neighborhood parks--but today, urban farmers are leading an environmental and social movement that transforms our national food system. To explore this agricultural renaissance, David and Michael Hanson and urban farmer Edwin Marty document twelve successful urban farm programs, from an alternative school for girls in Detroit, to a backyard food swap in New Orleans, to a restaurant supply garden on a rooftop in Brooklyn. Each beautifully illustrated essay offers practical advice for budding.

APLICACION DE LA LEY

States of delinquency : race and science in the making of California's juvenile justice system

Miroslava Chavez-Garcia. (2012)

364.36 CHA

This unique analysis of the rise of the juvenile justice system from the nineteenth to the twenty century uses one of the harshest state: California, as a case study for examining racism in the treatment of incarcerated young people of color. Using rich untapped archives, explores the experiences of young Mexican American, African Americans and ethnic Euro Americans in California correctional facilities.

ARQUEOLOGIA

On the edge of purgatory : an archaeology of place in Hispanic Colorado

Bonnie J. Clark. (2011)

305.868 CLA

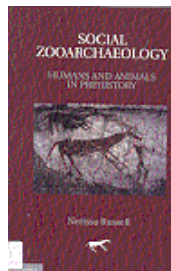

Southeastern Colorado was known as the northernmost boundary of New Spain in the sixteenth century. By the 1800s, the region was U.S. territory, but the majority of settlers remained Hispanic families. The author investigates the unwritten history of this unique Hispanic population. Combining archaeological research, contemporary ethnography, and oral and documentary history, Clark examines the everyday lives of this population over time.

Social zooarchaeology : humans and animals in prehistory

Nerissa Russell. (2012)

930.1 RUS

This is the first book to provide an overview and systematic examination of social zooarchaeology, a new approach that takes a holistic view of human-animal relations in the past. Until very recently, zooarchaeology was heavily focused on diet and subsistence economy, especially for prehistoric periods. This book argues that animals have always played much broader roles in human societies: as wealth, companions, spirit helpers, sacrificial victims, totems, centerpieces of feasts, and objects of taboos, and so on. Exploring the broader significance of ancient animals provides a richer picture of past societies, even those primarily interested in utilitarian aspects of animal use need to account for that social factors that shaped zooarchaeological assemblages as much as taxonomic processes.

ARTE

The Weir family, 1820-1920 : expanding the traditions of American art

Edited by Marian Wardle.

(2011)

REF 759.13 WEI

Fist major study to examine the artistic output of Robert Walter Weir and his two sons, John Ferguson Weir and Julian Alder Weir. Through letters, diaries, histories, and paintings, this book examines the lives of the American men and women of the Weir art dynasty and their explorations of the wider world, from the Hudson River Valley to London, Paris, and Rome.

ASTRONOMIA

Hubble's amazing universe [videorecording]

National Geographic; producer/director, Dana Berry. (2009)

DVD 522.2 HUB

The Hubble Space Telescope has explored the creation of stars and planets, the glory of supernovas and the formation of super massive black holes, charted dark matter and changed forever our understanding of reality itself. Now, it's spiraling toward the Earth and astronauts are embarking on a dangerous mission to fix it. In Hubble's Amazing Universe, glimpse the far ends of the universe as seen through the amazing Hubble Space Telescope, and meet one of the astronauts risking everything to save it.

Copp. (2010)

DVD 523.113 INS

Embark on an astounding journey across 100,000 light-years to witness key moments in the history of the Milky Way. Using cutting-edge science, National Geographic constructs a 3-D state-of-the-art CGI model of the galaxy. Peer into the heart of the Milky Way on the hunt for super-massive black holes, watch how stars are born and die, fly out and above the plane of the galaxy to understand its true shape, and scour its dusty spiral arms for the possibility of life.

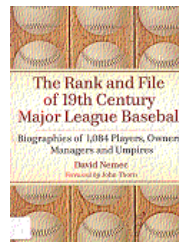

Space [videorecording]

National Geographic Television & Film. (2011)

DVD 520 SPA

This is a collection of National Geographic's most popular explorations of space. Using cutting-edge science, Inside the Milky Way constructs a 3-D state-of-the-art CGI model of our galaxy. Monster Black Holes explores what happens to matter when it comes too close to one, and wonders whether our Milky Way galaxy will one day end when the black hole at the galaxy's center explodes. Hubble's Amazing Universe journeys into the far ends of the universe in amazing images, and looks at the mission to save the telescope.

BEISBOL

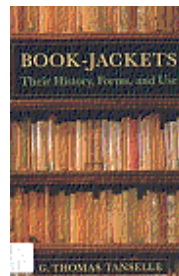

The rank and file of 19th century major league baseball : biographies of 1,084 players, owners, managers and umpires

David Nemeec ; foreword by John Thorn. (2012)

REF 796.357 NEM

This volume provides information on figures unnoticed by most historians. Each entry includes statistics, peer-driven analysis of baseball-related skills, and an overview of the individual's role in the game. Also chronicled are players' first and last major league games, most important achievements, movements from team to team, and more.

BIBLIOTECOLOGIA

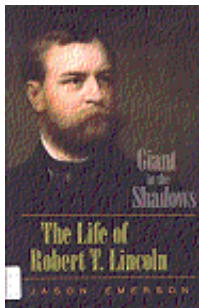

Book-jackets : their history, forms, and use

G. Thomas Tanselle. (2011)

741.64 TAN

The present work offers a concise history both of publisher's detachable book coverings, and of the attention they have received from scholars, dealers, collectors, and librarians. It also surveys their use by publishers and their usefulness to scholars of literature, art, and book history (as sources for biography, bibliography, cultural analysis, and the development of graphic design.)

BIOGRAFIA

Giant in the shadows : the life of Robert T. Lincoln

Jason Emerson. (2012)

920 LIN

Emerson, after nearly ten years of research, draws upon previously unavailable materials to offer the first truly definitive biography of the famous lawyer, businessman, and statesman who, much more than merely the son of Americas most famous president, made his own indelible mark on one of the most progressive and dynamic eras in United States history.

Multiple intelligences around the world

*Jie-Qi Chen, Seana Moran,
Howard Gardner, editors.
(2009)*

153.9 MUL

Multiple intelligences (MI) theory has been introduced and implemented successfully in numerous countries around the world. This is the first collection to review, synthesize, and reflect on this unique cross-cultural and educational phenomenon. Through this synthesis and reflection, the book's authors provide a fresh and fuller understanding of MI theory. In addition, they develop more specific knowledge about why MI theory has been welcomed in so many countries, how its use can be appropriate in diverse cultures, and what has supported and fueled travel of the MI meme.

CONTABILIDAD

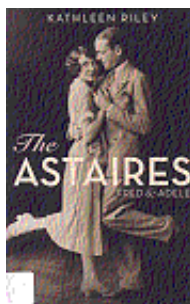

How to keep score in business : accounting and financial analysis for the non-accountant

Robert Follett. (2012)

657 FOL

Teaches how to "keep score" in business by reading and interpreting company financial reports, including balance sheets and income statements, and how to use this information for lucrative investing.

DANZA

The Astaires : Fred & Adele

Kathleen Riley. (2012)

792.802 RIL

In the first comprehensive study of the Astaire's theatrical career together, Riley traces their rise to fame from humble Midwestern origins and early days as child performers on small-time vaudeville stages. From the start, Adele was the more natural performer, while Fred had to hone his trademark timing and elegance through endless hours of rehearsal.

DOCUMENTALES

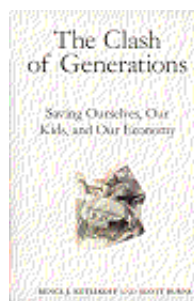

Science of babies [videorecording]

Pangloss Films Production for National Geographic Television & Film. (2012)

DVD 612.654 SCI

Using sophisticated CGI and MRI imaging techniques, this program explores the amazing biomechanical benchmarks in the first 12 months of a human life. Viewers witness the drama and spectacle of birth, watch the infant's lungs kick in, observe the swiftly beating and rapidly growing heart, study the expanding skeleton, and examine the muscles that mature with every little kick toward the ability to crawl. Cell division, the building of neural synapses, and the sharpening of vision are also shown. Day by day, month by month, the human baby develops senses and adds skills, all the while intent on another elemental achievement--the first step.

ECONOMIA

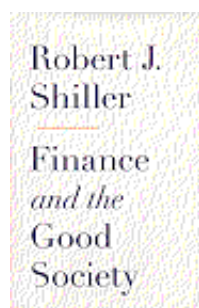

The clash of generations : saving ourselves, our kids, and our economy

Laurence J. Kotlikoff and Scott Burns. (2012)

330.973 KOT

The United States is bankrupt, flat broke. Thanks to accounting that would make Enron blush, America's insolvency goes far beyond what our leaders are disclosing. The United States is a fiscal basket case, in worse shape than the notoriously bailed-out countries of Greece, Ireland, and others. How did this happen? In The Clash of Generations, experts Laurence Kotlikoff and Scott Burns document our six-decade, off-balance-sheet, unsustainable financing scheme. They explain how we have balanced our longer lives on the backs of our (relatively few) children. At the same time, we've been on a consumption spree, saving and investing less than nothing. And that's not to mention the evisceration of the middle class and a financial system that has proven it can't be trusted. Kotlikoff and Burns outline grassroots strategies for saving ourselves--and especially our children--from what could be a truly catastrophic financial collapse. Kotlikoff and Burns sounded the alarm in their widely acclaimed The Coming Generational Storm, but politicians didn't listen. Now the need for action is even more urgent. It's up to us to demand radical reform of our tax system, our healthcare system, and our Social Security system, and to insist on better paths to investment return than those provided by Wall Street (mis)managers.

Finance and the good society

Robert J. Shiller. (2012)

332 SCH

Argues that finance should be defined not merely as the manipulation of money or the management of risk but as the stewardship of society's assets, and that new ways to rechannel financial creativity to benefit society as a whole are needed.

Why nations fail : the origins of power, prosperity and poverty

Daron Acemoglu, James A. Robinson. (2012)

330 ACE

Evaluates the reasons that some nations are poor while others succeed, outlining provocative perspectives that support theories about the importance of institutions.

EDUCACION

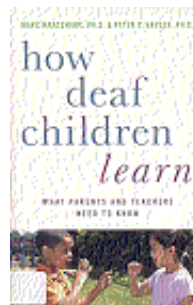

Creating innovators : the making of young people who will change the world

Tony Wagner . (2012)

373 WAG

From the founder of Harvard's Change Leadership Group comes a provocative look at why innovation is today's most essential real-world skill and what young people need to become innovators.

How deaf children learn : what parents and teachers need to know

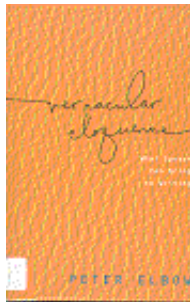

Marc Marschark and Peter C. Hauser. (2012)

371.91 MAR

Highlights important new advances in scientific and educational research that can help parents and teachers of students with significant hearing loss. The authors stress that deaf children have strengths and needs that are sometimes very different from those who can hear.

Consequently, if deaf students are to have full academic access and optimal educational outcomes, it is essential that parents and teachers learn to recognize these differences and adjust their teaching methods to them.

ESCRITURA

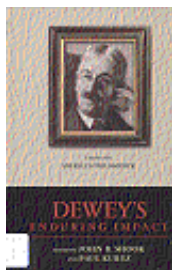

Vernacular eloquence : what speech can bring to writing

Peter Elbow. (2012)

808 ELB

Makes a vital new contribution to both practice and theory. The core idea is simple: we can enlist virtues from the language activity most people find easiest: speaking, for the language activity most people find hardest: writing. Speech, with its spontaneity, naturalness of expression, and fluidity of thought, has many overlooked linguistic and rhetorical merits. Though several easy to employ techniques, writers can marshal this "wisdom of the tongue" to produce stronger, clearer, more natural writing.

FILOSOFIA

Dewey's enduring impact : essays on America's philosopher

Edited by John R. Shook and Paul Kurtz. (2012)

191 DEW

In this collection of 23 essays, written specially for this volume, many of the most prominent scholars on Dewey and pragmatism offer fresh insights and explorations of Dewey's enduring impact. The contributors are inspired to search for that new enlightenment that Dewey himself sought, and to reconfigure that enlightenment to deal with the pressing problems of our times.

FOLKLORE

American Eats [videorecording] : Holiday Foods

*A & E Television Networks.
(2012)*

DVD 641.5973 AME

Mains, sides and don't forget dessert. This is the ultimate look from the traditional to the ridiculous, at our festive feasts. This video goes from the farm to the kitchen and beyond. An irreverent, illuminating, gastronomic tour of the nation. A belt-loosening of all the goodies that make holidays so memorable.

The philosophy of food

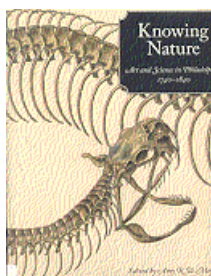

*Edited by David M.
Kaplan. (2011)*

641.3 PHI641.3 PHI

Explores food from a philosophical perspective, bringing together sixteen leading philosophers to consider the most basic questions about food. Each of the essays in this book brings in-depth analysis to many contemporary debates in food studies: Slow Food, sustainability, food safety, and politics. The result is a resource that guides readers to think more clearly and responsibly about what we consume and how we provide for ourselves.

HISTORIA NATURAL

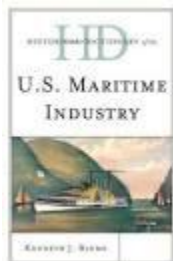

Knowing nature : art and science in Philadelphia, 1740-1840

Edited by Amy R.W. Meyers, with the assistance of Lisa L. Ford.

REF 701.05 KNO

These essays powerfully demonstrate the pervasive interest in the study of nature, for its spiritual, aesthetic, economic and political ends, stimulated not only processes of making traditionally associated with scientific practice of the day, such as the crafting of natural history illustrations, cabinets of curiosity, menageries, and botanic gardens, but also activities not ordinarily linked to science.

INDUSTRIA MARITIMA

Historical dictionary of the U.S. maritime industry

Kenneth J. Blume. (2012)

REF 387.0973 BLU

The history of the U.S. Maritime industry is followed in considerable detail by this book. It can be glimpsed in the chronology, but the overall view is best captured by the introduction. The extensive dictionary section contains entries on the numerous, large and small, active in shipping, shipbuilding, brokering, stevedoring, and other activities.

LEYES Y LEGISLACION

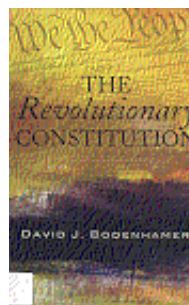

The legal universe : observations on the foundations of American law

Vine Deloria, Jr., David E. Wilkins. (2011)

342.7308 DEL

Examination of the historical evolution of the legal rights of various minority groups in the United States and the relationship between these rights and the philosophical intent of the country's founders. It is essential reading, emphasizing that while much progress has been made, fundamental constitutional, political, legal, and cultural reforms are still necessary if the United States hopes to fulfill its own democratic destiny.

The revolutionary constitution

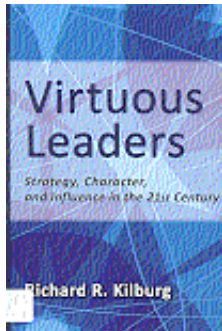

David J. Bodenhamer. (2012)

346.7302 BOD

Provides a comprehensive new look at America's basic law, integrating the latest legal scholarship with historical context to highlight how it has evolved over time. The Constitution, he notes, was the product of the first modern revolution, and revolutions are, by definition, moments when the past shifts toward an unfamiliar future, one radically different from what was foreseen only a brief time earlier. In seeking to balance power and liberty, the framers established a structure that would allow future generations to continually readjust the scale. Bodenhamer explores this dynamic through seven major constitutional themes: federalism, balance of powers, property, representation, equality, rights, and security. With each, he takes a historical approach, following their changes over time.

LIDERAZGO

Virtuous leaders : strategy, character, and influence in the 21st century

Richard R. Kilburg. (2012)

303.34 KIL

In this extensively researched yet thoroughly practical book, renowned executive consultant Richard Kilburg characterizes effective leadership as a combination of specific behaviorally based competencies and virtuous aspects of character. He demonstrates that despite all the complexities of the modern world, the foundations of executive leadership can still be found in the timeless and enduring virtues of the ancient Chinese and Greeks. With rich and informative discussions of the classical and modern literatures on virtue and executive leadership, and a wealth of exercises and questionnaires that translate models of leadership into plans for action, Virtuous Leaders is a vital resource for leaders and executive consultants alike, and is sure to become a classic in the field.

LITERATURA

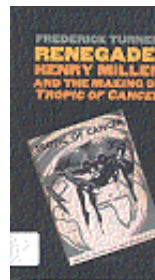

The Oxford handbook of nineteenth-century American literature

Edited by Russ Castronovo. (2012)

810.9 OXF

Brings together 23 original essays written by leading scholars in American literary studies. By examining specific novels, poems, essays, diaries, and other literary examples, the authors confront head-on the implications, scope, and scale of their analysis. This volume registers what is happening now and anticipates what will shape the field's future.

Renegade : Henry Miller and the making of Tropic of Cancer

Frederick Turner. (2011)

813.52 TUR

Though branded as pornography for its graphic language and explicit sexuality, Henry Miller's Tropic of Cancer is far more than a work that tested American censorship laws. In this riveting book, published to coincide with the fiftieth anniversary of Tropic of Cancer's initial U.S. release, Frederick Turner investigates Miller's unconventional novel, its tumultuous publishing history, and its unique place in American letters. Written in the slums of a foreign city by a man who was an utter literary failure in his homeland, Tropic of Cancer was published in 1934 by a pornographer in Paris, but soon banned in the United States. Not until 1961, when Grove Press triumphed over the censors, did Miller's book appear in American bookstores. Turner argues that Tropic of Cancer is "lawless, violent, colorful, misogynistic, anarchical, bigoted, and shaped by the same forces that shaped the nation." Further, the novel draws on more than two centuries of New World history, folklore, and popular culture in ways never attempted before. How Henry Miller, outcast and renegade, came to understand what literary dynamite he had within him, how he learned to sound his "war whoop" over the roofs of the world, is the subject of Turner's revelatory study.

MEDIO AMBIENTE

Tomorrow's energy : hydrogen, fuel cells, and the prospects for a cleaner planet

*Peter Hoffmann ; foreword by Senator Byron L. Dorgan.
(2012)*

665.81 HOF

Hydrogen is the most abundant element in the universe. An invisible, tasteless, colorless gas, it can be converted to nonpolluting, zero-emission, renewable energy. When burned in an internal combustion engine, hydrogen produces mostly harmless water vapor. It performs even better in fuel cells, which can be 2.5 times as efficient as internal-combustion engines. Zero-emission hydrogen does not contribute to CO₂-caused global warming. Abundant and renewable, it is unlikely to be subject to geopolitical pressures or scarcity concerns. In this new edition of his pioneering book Tomorrow's Energy, Peter Hoffmann makes the case for hydrogen as the cornerstone of a new energy economy. Hoffmann covers the major aspects of hydrogen production, storage, transportation, fuel use, and safety.

MUSICA

Born to run [sound recording]

Bruce Springsteen. (1975)

CD 782.0973 SPR

Few albums are as fueled by hope, possibility, and the lure of the open road as Born to Run, a virtual concept album about small-town Jerseyites in search of a better life via hot-rodding out on the turnpike, scoring some small-time hustle, or blowing out of town altogether, either across the river to New York City or west for parts unknown. Songs like "Jungleland," "Thunder Road," "Backstreets," and the title track are epic productions, both sonically and lyrically, borrowing from Phil Spector, Bob Dylan, Elvis Presley, and West Side Story. 1975 album from New Jersey's finest. Born To Run was the album that created the legend and set the stage for massive international success.

Canyon trilogy [sound recording]

R. Carlos Nakai. (1989)

CD 789.56 CAN

Nakai has been credited with leading the renaissance of the Native American flute and is recognized for fostering greater cross cultural awareness and understanding. As an ethnic artist, Nakai seeks not to reiterate the past but to find new avenues of expression for traditional values and ways.

The chronicles of Narnia. The voyage of the Dawn Treader [sound recording] :

original motion picture soundtrack

Music by David Arnold. (2010)

CD 781.542 CHR

Return to the magic and wonder of C.S. Lewis' beloved world via the fantastic Narnian ship, the Dawn Treader. The Chronicles of Narnia: The Voyage of the Dawn Treader Original Motion Picture Soundtrack is composed by Grammy® Award-winner David Arnold (Independence Day, Casino Royale) and follows the hugely successful first two soundtracks in The Chronicles of Narnia series. Arnold has delivered a stirring new score while incorporating the beloved themes from the prior Narnia films composed by Harry Gregson-Williams.

Classic mountain songs from Smithsonian Folkways [sound recording].

Smithsonian Folkways Recordings. (2002)

CD 782.421642 CLA

Folk music from North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, and Tennessee, including old-time fiddle and banjo pieces, early bluegrass, [and] traditional ballads, with a special emphasis on Appalachian vocal traditions.

George Crumb [sound recording] : Complete Crumb Edition, Vol. 12.

George Crumb. (2008)

CD 784.262 GEO

American composer of contemporary classical music, George Crumb is noted as an explorer of unusual timbres, alternative forms of notation, and extended instrumental and vocal techniques. Examples include seagull effect for the cello, metallic vibrato for the piano, and using a mallet to play the strings of a contrabass, among numerous others. He is not an electronic music composer, however many works call for amplification of instruments. Crumb's music contains an intense humanism, which is reflected in his personal definition of music: a system of proportions in the service of spiritual impulse.

The Oxford handbook of the American musical

Edited by Raymond Knapp, Mitchell Morris, Stacy Wolf. (2011)

782.14 OXF

The Oxford Handbook of The American Musical offers new and cutting-edge essays on the most important and compelling issues and topics in the growing, interdisciplinary field of musical-theater and film-musical studies. Taking the form of a "keywords" book, it introduces readers to the concepts and terms that define the history of the musical as a genre and that offer ways to reflect on the specific creative choices that shape musicals and their performance on stage and screen. The handbook offers a cross-section of essays written by leading experts in the field, organized within broad conceptual groups, which together capture the breadth, direction, and tone of musicals studies today. Each essay traces the genealogy of the term or issue it addresses, including related issues, controversies, and positions and also problematizes those issues within larger bodies of scholarship, and provides specific examples drawn from show and films.

Scarface [sound recording] : music from the original motion picture soundtrack.

Geffen Records. (2003)

CD 781.542 SCA

The DVD and 20th anniversary theatrical reissue of Brian DePalma's revisionist remake of the 30's film noir crime drama Scarface was treated to the release of a gangsta-rap "tribute" soundtrack that underscored the film's enduring, if ultra-violent legacy. But the film's original song-score remains its true musical soul, a pop-culture artifact that still echoes its era and locale with a feverish '80s dancebeat aura. This new edition has been personally digitally remastered by the score's original composer/producer, Eurodisco king Giorgio Moroder, who burnishes its electrobeat-driven performances with loving care. And while Paul Engemann's title track and other performances can't help but sound a bit dated and kitsch-centric, other performances (like Debbie Harry's slinky "Rush Rush") show how much the era has influenced bands like No Doubt; a cultural wheel turned full circle.

Six trios [sound recording]

Charles Wuorinen. (1993)

CD 784.262 SIX

The works on this disc are all trios of diverse combinations, written in the early 1980's, and performed here by the Group for Contemporary Music, the ensemble that Wuorinen co-founded in 1962. The music ranges from the powerfully driven Horn trio to the unusual and resonant texture of the Trombone Trio.

NATIVOS AMERICANOS

Native America : a state-by-state historical encyclopedia

Daniel S. Murphree. (2012)

REF 973.03 NAT

Comprises 50 chapters offering interpretations of Native American history through the lens of the states in which American Indians lived or helped shape. This organizing structure and thematic focus allows readers access to information on specific Indians and the regions they lived in while also providing a collective overview of Native American relationships with the United states as a whole.

A separate country : postcoloniality and American Indian nations

Elizabeth Cook-Lynn. (2012)

978.0497 COO

Essays questioning the academic notion that "postcoloniality" is the current condition of American Indian communities. Argues that American Indians remain among the most colonized people in the modern world; revises the popular view of the American West and explores the forgotten history of Indigenoussness in America.

NEGOCIOS Y ADMINISTRACION

Be our guest : perfecting the art of customer service

Disney Institute ; foreword by Michael D. Eisner. (2003)

658.812 BEO

The world-renowned Disney Institute reveals the strategies that have sealed Disney's extraordinary reputation when it comes to customer service. Now available in paperback. Whether they are called clients, customers, constituents, or, in Disney-speak, guests, all organizations must best serve the people who purchase their products and services or risk losing them. Now, for the first time, one critical element of the methods behind the magic that is the Walt Disney World Resort--quality service--is revealed in Be Our Guest. Even before Tom Peters and Bob Waterman profiled Walt Disney World Resort in their groundbreaking book In Search of Excellence, the most popular resort destination in the world enjoyed a reputation as a company that sets the benchmark for best business practices. Be Our Guest outlines proven Disney principles and processes for helping your organization focus its vision and align its people and infrastructure into a cohesive strategy that delivers on the promise of exceptional customer service.

NOVELAS

Beloved

Toni Morrison. (2011)

S F MOR BEL

La historia de Sethe, la esclava que mata a su hija para salvarla del horror, para que la indignidad del presente no tenga futuro posible. Una experiencia del crimen como única arma contra el dolor ajeno, el amor como única justificación ante el delito y la muerte como paradójica salvación ante una vida destinada a la esclavitud.

Ojos azules

Toni Morrison (2011)

S F MOR OJO

Pecola es una niña pequeña que vive con su padres y tiene una prima que se llama Claudia. Le gustan las muñecas y las caléndulas, que no le gustan a nadie excepto a ella. Pecola es negra y cree que es fea porque no se parece a Shirley Temple y tiene un truco para desaparecer cuando sus padres se pelean o su padre la molesta por las noches: piensa en que tiene unos preciosos ojos azules, que todo el mundo admira su belleza y que las otras niñas la envidian.

PERIODISMO

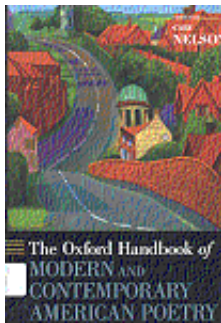

After broadcast news : media regimes, democracy, and the new information environment

Bruce A. Williams, Michael X. Delli Carpini. (2011)

071.3 WIL

The new media environment has challenged the role of professional journalists as the primary source of politically relevant information. After Broadcast News puts this challenge into historical context, arguing that it is the latest of several critical moments in which the relationship among citizens, political elites, and the media has been contested.

POESIA

The Oxford handbook of modern and contemporary American poetry

Edited by Cary Nelson.
(2012)

811.5409 OXF

The Oxford Handbook of Modern and Contemporary American Poetry gives readers a cutting-edge introduction to the kaleidoscopic world of American poetry over the last century. Offering a comprehensive approach to the debates that have defined the study of American verse the twenty-five original essays contained herein take up a wide array of topics: the influence of jazz on the Beats and beyond; European and surrealist influences on style; poetics of the disenfranchised; religion and the national epic; antiwar and dissent poetry; the AIDS epidemic; digital innovations; transnationalism; hip hop; and more. Alongside these topics, major interpretive perspectives such as Marxist, psychoanalytic, disability, queer, and eco critical are incorporated.

SALUD PUBLICA

Governing how we care: contesting community and defining difference in U.S. public health programs

Susan J. Shaw. (2012)

362.10973 SHA

In Governing How We Care, medical anthropologist Susan Shaw examines the relationship between government and citizens using case studies of needle exchange and Welfare-to-Work programs to illustrate the meanings of cultural difference, ethnicity, and inequality in health care. Drawing on ethnographic research conducted over six years in a small New England city, Shaw presents critical perspectives on public health intervention efforts. She looks at online developments in health care and makes important correlations between poverty and health care in the urban United States.

TEATRO

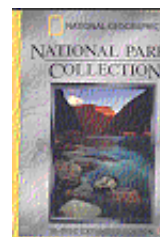

Playing with theory in theatre practice

Edited by Megan Alrutz, Julia Listengarten, and M. Van Duyn Wood. (2011)

urban form. They do this by offering an illustrated history of "the City"--a hypothetical city that exemplifies the American city's transformation from village to merchant seaport, industrial city, multicentered metropolis, and, finally, regional metropolis that participates in both the local and the global. The book thereby offers a yardstick against which readers can measure the history of their own cities. Warner and Whittemore have constructed their hypothetical City from the histories of Boston, Philadelphia, and New York, focusing on commonalities that make up key patterns in American urban development.

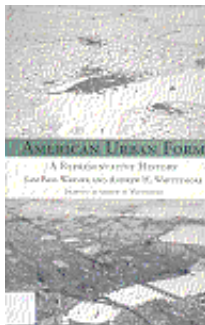

Historic preservation and the livable city

Eric Allison and Lauren Peters. (2011)

363.69 ALL

For both the preservation professional and urban planner, this book shows how preservation is a key to the creation of livable cities. The author Eric Allison, the founder and coordinated of the graduate historic preservation program at Pratt Institute in New York City, offers tools and case studies that preservationists and planners can learn from in implementing preservation projects or plans in cities large and small. This book is a must read for anyone working in or interested in these fields and the creation and maintenance of livable cities.

VIOLENCIA FAMILIAR

A troubled marriage : domestic violence and the legal system

Leigh Goodmark. (2012)

345.73 GOO

The development of a legal regime to combat domestic violence in the United States has been lauded as one of the feminist movement's greatest triumphs. But, Leigh Goodmark argues, the resulting system is deeply flawed in ways that prevent it from assisting many women subjected to abuse. The current legal response to domestic violence is excessively focused on physical violence; this narrow definition of abuse fails to provide protection from behaviors that are profoundly damaging, including psychological, economic, and reproductive abuse. The system uses mandatory policies that deny women subjected to abuse autonomy and agency, substituting the state's priorities for women's goals. A Troubled Marriage is a provocative exploration of how the legal system's response to domestic violence developed, why that response is flawed, and what we should do to change it.
