

R-2515 A Closer Look

As you look at R-2515, the southwest portion, in green, depicts the base property line of Edwards AFB. To remain clear of the restricted area, while traveling north or south, you must remain on the west side of CA Hwy 14. Near the Mojave area, you'll see several dirt roads running almost a perfect east-west direction. This group of roads is called the Cords Road Test Area. All types of aircraft use this area for basic performance or instrumentation testing, since the straight lines of the dirt roads are perfect directional references. Jets may freely exit R-2515 and fly west toward Tehachapi. Since this is usually a high traffic area, prudence dictates that you should contact Joshua when approaching the Cords Road and Mojave areas for any traffic updates.
