09 December, 1400 hours
PAO Auditorium

This 1964 film, starring, Peter Sellers, George C. Scott, and Sterling Hayden, takes a satirical look at Cold War politics and the very real fear of nuclear attack that permeated the era. Deranged US Air Force General Jack D. Ripper unleashes a B-52 nuclear attack against the Soviet Union, and a frantic President and Joint Chiefs of Staff must somehow find a way to stop it with the help of the Soviet leadership.

Afterwards, a panel of SHAPE experts will lead a discussion of this provocative film, giving us a chance to assess the changed geopolitical environment of today and glean important lessons from the past.
