Key Findings

On a single night in January 2011:

- 636,017 people were homeless in the United States, including 399,836 homeless individuals and 236,181 persons in families.
- Almost two-thirds of homeless people were in shelter (62 percent), and about one third were in unsheltered locations (38 percent).
- Five states accounted for half of the nation's total homeless population: CA (21 percent), NY (10 percent), FL (9 percent), TX (6 percent), and GA (3 percent).
- 107,148 people were chronically homeless in the United States, or about 17 percent of all homeless people.
- 67,495 veterans were homeless in the United States, about 14 percent of all homeless adults.
- 694,357 beds were available in emergency shelters, transitional housing, and permanent supportive housing programs.

Trends:

- Homelessness on a single night has declined by 2.1 percent (or 13,900 people) since January 2010 and by 5.3 percent (or 35,871 people) since January 2007.
- Homelessness among individuals and persons in families has declined by 2.0 and 2.4 percent since January 2010 and by 5.6 and 5.0 percent since January 2007.
- Chronic homelessness on a single night has declined by 2.4 percent (or 2,664 people) since January 2010 and by 13.5 percent (or 16,685 people) since January 2007.
- Homelessness among veterans has declined by nearly 12 percent (or 8,834 people) since January 2010.
- The supply of beds in permanent supportive housing continues to rise sharply: by 30,170 beds between 2010 and 2011, and by 83,065 beds since 2007.

Definitions

- Continuums of Care (CoC) are local planning bodies responsible for coordinating the full range of homelessness services in a geographic area, which may cover a city, county, metropolitan area, or even an entire state.
- Chronic Homelessness refers to an unaccompanied individual with a disability who has either been continuously homeless for a year or more or has experienced at least four episodes of homelessness in the last three years.
- Emergency Shelter is a facility whose primary purpose is to provide temporary shelter for homeless persons.
- Individual refers to people who are not part of a family during their episode of homelessness. They are homeless as single adults, unaccompanied youth, or in multiple-adult or multiple-child households.
- Permanent Supportive Housing is designed to provide housing (project- and tenant-based) and supportive services on a long-term basis for homeless people, many of whom have disabilities.
- Persons in Families are people who are homeless as part of households that have at least one adult and one child.
- Safe Havens provide private or semi-private long-term housing for people with severe mental illness and are limited to serving no more than 25 people within a facility.
- Sheltered Homeless Persons are individuals who are staying in emergency shelters, transitional housing programs, or safe havens.
- Transitional Housing Program is a type of housing where homeless people may stay and receive supportive services for up to 24 months, and which are designed to enable them to move into permanent housing.
- Unsheltered Homeless Persons include people who live in places not meant for human habitation, such as the streets, abandoned buildings, vehicles, or parks.

Collecting the Point-in-Time Estimates

Point-in-Time (PIT) estimates offer a snapshot of homelessness—of both sheltered and unsheltered homeless populations—on a single night. The one-night counts are conducted in late January of each year. In addition to the total counts of homelessness, the PIT counts provide an estimate of the number of homeless persons within particular subpopulations, such as chronically homeless people and veterans.

The PIT estimates also include counts of beds in emergency shelters, transitional housing programs, safe havens, and permanent supportive housing programs. The bed inventory describes the nation's capacity to provide shelter or permanent supportive housing to homeless people on the night of the count.

In 2011, the PIT estimates of both homeless people and beds were reported by 432 Continuums of Care (CoC) nationwide, covering virtually the entire United States. CoCs reported their estimates to the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) via an on-line web portal that allows CoCs to upload their information directly to HUD. As part of their applications for funding, HUD requires CoCs to conduct counts of sheltered homeless people annually and counts of unsheltered homeless people every two years (odd-numbered years). HUD has standards for conducting the PIT counts, and CoCs use a variety of approved methods to produce the counts. HUD reviews the data for accuracy and quality prior to creating the estimates for this report.

On a single night in January 2011:

- 636,017 people were homeless in the United States.
- 399,836 people were homeless as individuals, 63 percent of all homeless people.
- 236,181 people were homeless as persons in families, 37 percent of all homeless people. They were in 77,186 family households.
- Almost two-thirds of homeless people were in shelter on the night of the PIT count (62 percent), and about one third were in unsheltered locations (38 percent).

Since January 2010:

- Homelessness on a single night has declined by 2.1 percent (or 13,900 people).
- Homelessness among individuals has declined by 2.0 percent (or 8,130 people).
- Homelessness among persons in families has declined by 2.4 percent (or 5,770 people). Homeless family households have declined by 2.8 percent (or 2,260 households).
- The percentage of homeless people who are in shelter has stayed constant (62 percent).

Since January 2007:

- Homelessness on a single night has declined by 5.3 percent (or 35,871 people).
- Homelessness among individuals has declined by 5.6 percent (or 23,541 people).
- Homelessness among persons in families has declined by 5.0 percent (or 12,330 people). Homeless family households have declined by 8.0 percent (or 6,749 family households).
- The percentage of homeless people who are in unsheltered locations has declined by 13 percent (or 36,786 people).

Obtaining accurate estimates of homeless veterans is an important focus for both HUD and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA). Starting in 2011, HUD began requiring communities to conduct counts of homeless veterans in unsheltered locations. This information is currently being reported by all CoCs and allows HUD to produce PIT estimates of unsheltered homeless veterans without the use of statistical adjustments. Previously, communities were not required to count veterans in unsheltered locations, and thus earlier estimates used statistical techniques to account for missing data on unsheltered homeless veterans.

Also, in the summer 2011, HUD and the VA launched a collaborative effort to make sure VA residential programs for homeless veterans were included in each CoC’s inventory of beds for homeless people. Representatives from CoCs and Veterans Integrated Service Networks lead this effort at the local level. The initiative resulted in a more accurate inventory of beds (presented on pg. 7) and also produced a more accurate estimate of homeless veterans because some CoCs adjusted their sheltered counts of veterans to fully account for the inventory of VA programs. Estimates of sheltered homeless veterans for years prior to 2011 used statistical adjustments to account for missing VA programs and beds from the inventory. (For a full discussion of these statistical adjustments see the Veteran Homelessness: A Supplemental Report to the 2010 Annual Homeless Assessment Report to Congress.)

As a result of these efforts, the PIT counts of homeless veterans have become increasingly precise. HUD and the VA will continue to focus on the accuracy of these estimates and use them to develop appropriate intervention strategies to prevent and end homelessness among veterans.

Table 8: PIT Estimates of Homelessness Among Veterans by Sheltered Status

On a single night in January 2011:

- 67,495 veterans were homeless in the United States, about 14 percent of all homeless adults.
- About 59 percent of homeless veterans were sheltered (or 40,033 people), and an estimated 41 percent were in unsheltered locations (or 27,462 people).

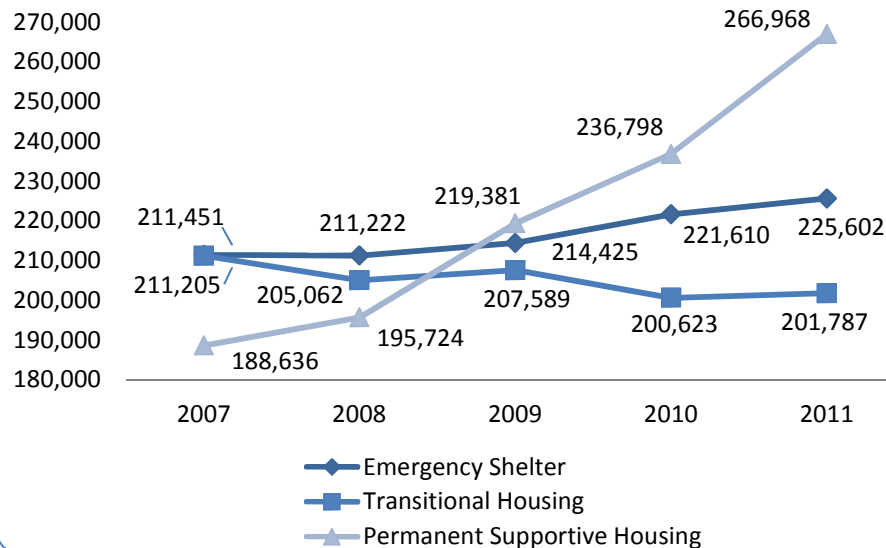

Trends:

- Homelessness among veterans has declined by nearly 12 percent (or 8,834 people) since January 2010 and by almost 11 percent (or 8,114 people) since January 2009.
- A higher share of homeless veterans was in shelter in 2011 (59 percent) than in 2009 or 2010 (about 57 percent in each year).
- The share of veterans among all homeless adults has declined from 16 percent in 2009 and 2010 to 14 percent in 2011.
