

Sample Structured Abstract Form

ERIC invites contributors to submit structured abstracts with their research papers and conference presentations. Structured abstracts present important details about research studies and their outcomes under predefined headings, or elements. The screen shot below illustrates what information is required in an ERIC structured abstract. See Online Submission at www.eric.ed.gov for more details.

Add New Materials

Step 3 of 3: Provide Submission Details

Enter the following information about this material. The document title, author name(s), publication year, and publication date must be identical to the information provided in your document as it appears on the title or cover page. Please note: "Publication Year" is the year that the document was completed. "Publication Date" is the date that the document was completed. (Typically, this is NOT the same as the year, month, and day that you submit the document.)
