Summary of Exceptions to the Regulations and Standards
Specified and Explained by the Principal Investigator and Approved by the IACUC

In a study involving Syrian hamsters, the researcher submitted a memorandum of explanation to the IACUC regarding a change in the cleaning schedule for cages in which his hamsters are housed for particular studies approved previously by the IACUC. This relates to 9 CFR, Ch. 1, Part 3, Subpart B, 3.31,a. This matter was discussed and approved by the IACUC on August 20, 2001. The measure is supported by a policy statement of the Society for the Research on Biological Rhythms which appeared in the Journal of Biological Rhythms, Vol. 8, pp. 97-106 (1993) which outlines and explains modifications of normal observance, cleanliness/sanitation, and food and water provision procedures for rodents in circadian rhythm studies. The change involved delaying cage cleaning because the stimulus of the cleaning process (new cage, fresh bedding, disrupts free running activity levels developed during the study. These activity levels must be measured over several weeks in the same (unchanged) cage environment. It was agreed that the researcher will monitor closely the cages during these particular studies to insure the environments of the hamsters and mice will be satisfactory as possible until the date collections are completed. Such observations must be conducted under very dim red illumination. It was agreed by the IACUC and the Director of Animal Care that inactive animals will be visually checked to make sure they are not ill or in distress. Healthy mice and hamsters run many revolutions on a wheel each night, and computer records indicating robust activity are considered adequate verification of each animal's well being.
