RE: TTB Notice No.4

Dear Sir/Madam:

The proposed rules change on flavored malt beverages is dangerous to retailers. This would force me to remove such products from my shelves completely. The increased taxes and brewing costs would make it prohibitive for me sell them, let alone for my customers to buy them. In short, nobody would buy them. That's a revenue hit I can't afford.

Please do all that you can to insure that the proposal never becomes policy. We just can't afford what it would do to retail businesses across the nation. We can't afford what the loss of such businesses would do to our economy. Keep us powerful and economically strong. Say no to this policy change proposal.

Thank you for your support.

Warm Regards,

Sega Besakadu
