Thank you, ~~Banna~~ Alfonso

I want to share with each of you today the programs and processes we are undertaking within the Clinton Domestic Policy Council and a little about the primary principle on which our work is based.

Pres. Clinton: 5 major goals outlined for the cabinet/staff at the Camp David Retreat

1. Economic package
2. Health Care Reform
3. National Service
- ↪ 4. Welfare Reform
- ↪ 5. Campaign Finance/Lobbying Reform

Domestic Policy has a finger in each of these pies:

1. Econ. pkg.-emphasis on children/families: economic council (new)
2. Health Care Reform: you have a panel tomorrow on this so I'll save the war stories for them to share. However, I don't want to gloss over it without saying we have some very fundamental decisions to make as a country- and this issue when you stop and think about it is one of the few we can undertake that is so intensely personal to each and every person.
3. National Service: You heard earlier from Eli; two Domestic Policy staff members have worked tirelessly with Eli on the National Service piece as well as the companion student financing reform components.
- ↪ 4. Welfare Reform: working groups; Mary Jo Bane and David Ellwood; paradigm shift- from WORK IN EXCHANGE FOR WELFARE to WORK INSTEAD OF WELFARE. We will here get into child support as well as child care issues.
- ↪ 5. Campaign Finance/Lobbying Reform issues: introduced recently. Two staff members working on this.

*Build on Family
Support
Act '81*

Other projects: Education which is involved in all the others.
Goals 2000. Empowerment zones: collaboration.

But what is really the underlying theme of this Domestic Policy Council:

Every child shall be empowered to develop to her/his fullest throughout her/his life. If we are truly serious about a better economy, competitiveness, etc. for our country, we have not a child to waste....and each of those children must be empowered to become the very best she or he can. This means we will be committed at the top here in DC but it also means the empowerment of parents, neighborhoods, communities and voluntary organizations across this country to work together for the greater good.

We did our best.

Dear Ms. Rasco:

On behalf of Brookings, I cordially invite you to meet informally with 25 to 30 corporate executives whom we are assembling for a public policy conference, with special attention to health care issues, to be held in the last week of May.

Specifically, we would be delighted and grateful if you could meet with the group at a 12:15 p.m. luncheon session on Thursday, May 27, at Brookings.

We would not expect a speech, but would welcome a few remarks as a springboard for off-the-record discussion of the general topic: "The Administration's Domestic Policy: Goals and Priorities".

Our objective in this executive education program is to help corporate decision-makers acquire a realistic understanding of the problems of governance in our society.

For planning purposes, your earliest possible response to this invitation to lend a hand will be tremendously appreciated.

Sincerely,

Peter Malof
