

There's a home for you at the Global Connections REAL* Community!

(* Residents Engaged in Academic Living)

Live With and Learn From Exchange Students at UNT

Are you interested in meeting and living in a diverse community made up by students from around the world? UNT's new Global Connections REAL Communities (Residents Engaged in Academic Living) program offered through UNT Housing allows you to live in a community with international exchange students coming to UNT – you can have a global experience right here in Denton! As a resident that lives in the Global Connections REAL Community, you'd have the opportunity to participate in programs and events related to international cultures and issues, interact with UNT faculty and staff that are connected to the world community, and develop relationships with other students that share your global interests.

How to Sign up for the Global Connections Community for Fall 2013

We hope that you'll consider the Global Connections REAL Community and choose the REAL Communities option when completing your Housing application.

Already applied for Housing? No problem! Go to https://reslife.unt.edu/real_communities/apply for instructions on how to change your preference to a REAL Community.

Feel free to contact us by email at housinginfo@unt.edu or by phone during regular business hours at 940.565.2610.

Exciting Option

- Have a global experience living in Denton, Texas
- Share US culture with friends from around the world
- Take part in campus activities with others who share your international interests

Department of Housing and Residence Life

University of North Texas