Student Activities Center

Location: Stovall Hall 117

The goal of Student Activities is to help students get involved on campus through a variety of events, services, and resources. Through three main areas, we promote a sense of community and loyalty to the University while serving to enhance the social, intellectual, and developmental growth of students as individuals or as members of organizations.

Student Organizations. With over 400 registered groups (including academic/professional, creative and performing arts, cultural and international, religious/spiritual, and sports and recreation, among others), there are many opportunities to find something that interests you. And if there's not, you can create your own.

Campus-Wide Events and Traditions. There are several large events during the school year, all of which are free to UNT students. One of our biggest events is Mean Green Fling, at which various student organizations, university departments, and community vendors come together to greet students as they start a new school year. Additionally, we work with students to plan a number of activities, including Bonfire and the parade, for Homecoming Week, EarthFest, and University Day, among others.

Off-Campus Student Services. The majority of UNT students live off-campus, and over 5,300 are considered "non-traditional," in that they may be older than the "traditional" college age, married and/or have kids, or work full-time. Living off-campus and having these extra responsibilities can create a barrier for your connection to campus. We offer a wide range of events and services for off-campus students, to help you connect to UNT while balancing your work, school, and/or family life.

UNT TRADITIONS

UNT Traditions

Official School Colors - Chosen in 1922, these school colors are Emerald Green and White. Secondary colors were added in 1995, which are Navy Blue and Gold. In 2005, UNT's official color was changed to a similar shade of the original green.

Lighting the McConnell Tower - After a victory by a UNT athletic team, special green floodlights bathe the Administration Building clock tower to signal the victory to the campus and community.

Scrappy, The Eagle Mascot - Students in a 1922 campus election chose the eagle over the dragon and lion as the college's mascot. In the '60s, a costumed Scrappy began appearing at games and other events. The mascot was renamed Eppy in 1974 by students who thought the name "Scrappy" was too warlike. However, Scrappy was reborn in 1995, when students decided the first name was better.

Eagle Claw - The eagle hand sign is our universal sign of pride and unity. Curl the thumb and index and middle fingers forward. The ring and pinkie fingers stay closed against the palm.

Honors Day - Outstanding students, faculty and staff are recognized in an afternoon ceremony that often includes alumni as guest speakers.

Alumni Appreciation Day - For more than 30 years, the university and many academic departments have set aside a day to recognize successful and dedicated alumni, inviting them back to campus for special events.

University Day - First held in 1961, when North Texas State College became North Texas State University, this spring event includes music, food, and camaraderie.

Homecoming Bonfire - The tradition of the Homecoming bonfire began in the '30s. Members of the Talons spirit organization build the fire, which is lit the Friday night of Homecoming.

Homecoming Parade - Held the morning of the Homecoming game, the parade includes floats made by students, faculty, staff, alumni, and community members. The route runs from campus to downtown Denton.

Mean Green Nickname - Although green has been the school color since around 1902, the "Mean Green" nickname dates from the late '60s when the football team's defense was dominating other teams. One of the outstanding players at the time was "Mean" Joe Greene.

Boomer, The Victory Cannon - The tradition of firing the cannon began in 1970. The modern cannon is a scale replica of a Civil War model and is managed by the Talons. Boomer is fired at special campus events and at football games to signal touchdowns.

Curfew and Spirit Bell - The Spirit Bell was brought to Denton from Michigan in 1891. It was used to signal class changes and evening curfewitions The 2,000-pound bell served as a sound of victory for many years until a crack was found within. The Talons dedicated the original bell to the university in 1982, and it was placed in the University Union across from the One O'Clock Lounge. Though smaller, the bell's successor can be heard at any home football game ringing with pride.

Official Class Ring - Unique to North Texas, the official ring portrays our Eagle mascot, university seal and the McConnell Tower. The two clock faces show different times—one o'clock for the internationally recognized

One O'Clock Lab Band, and seven o'clock noting the 1892 curfew for students of Texas Normal College and Teacher Training Institute.

Mean Green Village - Various groups set up tents near Fouts Field before home football games. Meals are available at this popular social event, which is one of the university's newest traditions.

Alma Mater:

Information not covered by FERPA will be released only in accordance with the policy on public information found in policy number 10.6 of the UNT Policy Manual. Requests for such information must be made in writing. FERPA affords students certain rights with respect to their education records. They are:

1. The right to inspect and review the student's education records within 45 days of the day the university receives a written request for access. Students should submit to the registrar, dean, head of the academic department or other appropriate official, written requests that identify the record(s) they wish to inspect. The university official will make arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. If the records are not maintained by the university official to whom the request was submitted, that official shall advise the student of the correct official to whom the request should be addressed.
2. The right to request the amendment of the student's education records that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading. Students may ask the university to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the Office of Vice Chancellor and General Counsel, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading.

If the university decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the university will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Additional information regarding the hearing procedures will be provided to the student when notified of the right to a hearing.

3. The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student's education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the university in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the university has contracted (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. A school official has legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility. Upon request, the university discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll. UNT will automatically forward a student's record to these institutions upon their request.

4. The right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures by the University of North Texas to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the office that administers FERPA is:

Family Policy Compliance Office
U.S. Department of Education
400 Maryland Avenue, SW
Policies
Washington, DC 20202-4605

Directory information regarding the student will be provided to the public upon request unless student files a request in the Registrar's Office asking to be excluded from the directory or from any other requests for open directory information from outside entities. The request should be submitted prior to the 12th class day in the fall and spring terms, the 2nd class day of the May mini-mester, or the 4th class day in the summer terms. A request to withhold information may be submitted after the stated deadline for a term, but information may be released between the deadline and receipt of the request. The file of a student who has asked to be excluded from the directory information will remain flagged until the student requests that the flag be removed.

Directory information consists of a student's full name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major field of study, classification, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of athletic team members, dates of attendance, degrees, awards received, the last educational agency or institution attended previous to UNT, and photograph.

The University of North Texas will disclose information from a student's education records only with the written consent of the student, except:

1. To school officials who have a legitimate educational interest in the records.
2. To officials of another school, upon request, in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.
3. To certain officials of the U.S. Department of Education, the Comptroller General, and state and local educational authorities, in connection with an audit, or certain state or federally supported education programs.

CODE OF STUDENT CONDUCT & DISCIPLINE

4. In connection with a student's request for or receipt of financial aid, as necessary to determine the eligibility, amount or conditions of the financial aid, or to enforce the terms and conditions of the aid.
5. If required by state law requiring disclosure that was adopted before November 19, 1974.
6. To organizations conducting certain studies for on behalf of the university.
7. To accrediting organizations to carry out their functions.
8. To parents of an eligible student who claim the student as a dependent for income tax purposes.
9. To comply with a judicial order or a lawfully issued subpoena.
10. To appropriate parties in a health or safety emergency.
11. To an alleged victim of any crime of violence, the results of any institutional disciplinary proceeding against the alleged perpetrator of that crime with respect to that crime.
12. To release information designated as directory information unless student has requested such directory information be withheld.s
13. To a victim of an alleged perpetrator of a crime of violence or nonforcible sex offense if the institution determines as a result of a disciplinary hearing that the student committed a crime of violence in violation of university rules or policy or state or federal law, as authorized by state law.
14. To a parent or legal guardian of a student, information regarding any violation of university policy, or state, federal or local law, governing the use or possession of alcohol or a controlled substance if the student is under the age of 21 at the time of the disclosure and it is determined that he/she committed a disciplinary infraction, as authorized by state law.
15. To a court in which the university is defending itself against legal action initiated by a parent or eligible student.

For information regarding the university's policy on access to records and to request accessibility to university records, contact the Office of the Vice Chancellor and General Counsel, UNT.
